Gray Chapel

In 1833 the Mansion House Hotel was built where Gray Chapel now stands. Upon the failure of this as a business project it was bought as the first University building through funds raised largely by popular subscription. Under the name of Eliott Hall it served as a chapel and general recitation building until 1879 when it was moved to its present location. In its place Gray Chapel was erected (1890-1893) in honor of Rev. David S. Gray who not only gave considerable of his own money but promoted the building plan. It now serves as a chapel, recitation hall and general administration building.

Merrick Hall

MERRICK HALL, named after Dr. Frederick Merrick for 13 years president of the University, was begun in 1869 but not completed for several years. The building, erected as a general recitation and science building cost approximately $40,000, a large part of which was taken from the Endowment Fund. It still serves as a science building at present housing the Geology, Botany, Zoology Departments, and the University Museum.

Austin Hall

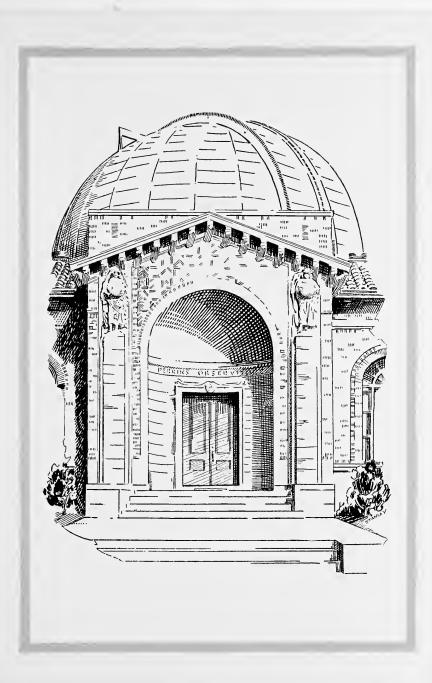

Austin Hall is one of the largest modern girls' dormitories in the country, housing over 250 girls. It cost approximately $350,000 and was built by the Trustees in 1924 with building funds then on hand to satisfy the increasing demand of adequate rooming facilities for women of the University. It was named in honor of Dr. Cyrus Brooks Austin for 41 years Dean of Women.

Perkins Observatory

Perkins Observatory was named in honor of Prof. H. M. Perkins for many years Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy at Ohio Wesleyan, whose savings together with funds contributed by his wife and relatives covered the entire cost of the building. His life dream would have been realized had he lived to see its completion in 1925. The observatory contains a telescope in the class of the third largest in the world and the only all-American telescope of its size. The casting of the 71 inch lens is a work of scientific achievement as it is the largest ever successfully made in the United States.

Sulphur Spring

To the Sulphur Spring, Ohio Wesleyan University undoubtedly owes its location if not its establishment in 1844. The attention of tourists and health seekers was early attracted to what was then known as the "White Sulphur Spring" and it was to accommodate them that in 1833 the Mansion House was built, upon failure of which a few years later the property was purchased and a college established. The grounds were formerly common pasture of the town, being rough and ungraded, while the spring was an almost inaccessible marsh. However, about 1830 the citizens of the town filled in around the spring, putting in a modest stone basin level with the surface. This was its condition when it came into possession of the University. The present marble basin and approaches, which were installed in 1870, are due to Mr. Sidney Moore, at that time president of the Delaware County National Bank, who contributed the money for their installation.

Edmund Davison Soper, B. D., D. D., LL. D. President of the University

The President Writes

I AM and always have been interested in college annuals. This is not exceptional—every one is interested. The reason is most evident—they are literally bursting with life. They do not tell a story, they have little connection part with part, they do not philosophize about anything. All they do is to present pictures and names; everything else is little more than what a binding is to a book. But this just what makes them interesting. It is people, folks, personalities that make up our real world, the world at large as well as the world of Ohio Wesleyan. The Bijou again fulfills that important function and so is to be welcomed. I raise my hand in hearty salute and wish it a most prosperous career.

The Deans

Many years experience in the various fields of education, the highest of intellectual attainments, a keen appreciation of the fullest possible life, and a clear conception of the problems of university and college students make Dean William E. Smyser one of the most powerful and steady forces in Ohio Wesleyan University. After graduating from old Wesleyan in Connecticut in 1889, Dean Smyser attended Johns Hopkins University for two years. He received an M. A. from old Wesleyan in 1891, a Litt. D. from Chattanooga in 1916, and a LL. D. from Hamline in 1927. He has been connected with the faculties of Dickinson Seminary, Northwestern University, DePauw University, and the Ohio State summer school. Since 1900 he has been with Ohio Wesleyan University, in the English department and serving as registrar until his appointment as dean in 1917.

CHARMING socially, brilliant intellectually, sympathetic and understanding, Dean Eugenie R. Overturf combines the qualities of a perfect dean of women. She received a B. A. degree from Ohio State University in 1908. Leaving her position as hostess in Pomerene Hall at Ohio State, she came to Ohio Wesleyan as acting dean of women March 23, 1923 and in June of that year was appointed dean of women. Mrs. Overturf has the single honor of being the only woman ever elected to the Administration Committee of the university and she serves on numerous other campus committees. She is a member of the National Association of Deans of Women, the American Association of University Women, the Altrusa Club, and Kappa Alpha Theta.

A LIFE of varied experiences and interests and a keen understanding of college men and their problems have made Dean William L. Sanders a most successful dean of men since he came to the Ohio Wesleyan campus three years ago. Graduating from Ohio Wesleyan in 1913, Dean Sanders received his B. D. degree from the Garrett Biblical Institute in 1917 and his M. A. from Columbia University in 1926. In 1918 he served as chaplain in the Balloon Division of the United States Army. Following a pastorate in Indianapolis, Indiana, Dean Sanders spent four years in China doing education work and part time teaching in the University of Nanking. His chief hobby is his three charming children. He is an enthusiast of tennis, golf, fishing, handball, and motoring.

The Senior Class

THE CLASS OF 1929 might be recognized as being the first to graduate under President Soper; or its regime might be designated as one of evolution, during the first part of which separate chapel seating for men and women was in effect and during the last year of which dates attended athletic contests. But its real claim to distinction lies in the fact that to it and its members has fallen a consistent degree of success in practically every field of undergraduate activity.

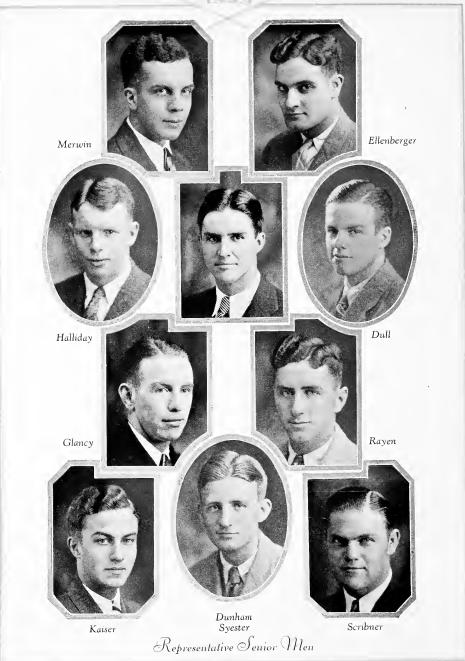

The Class of '29 has made for itself a seldom-parallelled record in student activities both on the Ohio Wesleyan Campus and in interscholastic relations.

The Student Administration of this class has created the new University Social Committee and inaugurated the practice of utilizing student talent in chapel exercises; while in the line of scholastic accomplishment it has produced seventeen Phi Beta Kappas.

In intercollegiate competition this class has done much to keep the name of Ohio Wesleyan among the leaders in all fields of interscholastic activity. Its orators and debaters have played an important part in the maintenance of the school's victorious forensic record. Le Bijou of 1928, the publication of this year's Senior class, took second class honors in the National Art Crafts Guild Contest for Annuals, and the Transcript is making a strong bid for the retention of the Ohio Collegiate Newspaper Association Cup, in competition with publications from all other Ohio schools.

The Class of '29 early furnished its share of varsity athletes, and from its roll have come three All-Ohio football men, two All-Ohio basketball men, a National Collegiate Hurdles Champion, together with the other athletes whose accomplishments have helped to maintain Ohio Wesleyan's record for victorious teams.

With such a varied list of attainments behind it, this class of '29 which is soon to dedicate its window to Slocum library may well look forward to a wide field of achievement in the future.

The Junior Class

An almost unparalleled success in nearly every line of endeavor has been the achievement of the class of 1930. Entering Ohio Wesleyan in 1926, the members of the present junior class soon proved themselves to be less green than the sophisticated sophomores would have had others believe. The freshies proceeded, almost immediately, to triumph over their over-lords, the sophomores, in two out of three of the inter-class events schedules, winning both the tug-of-war and the football rush.

In the same year, productions were given by Freshman Players, and a number of debates were held in which both men and women were successful. Other campus activities were participated in by the enterprising freshmen, and their achievements were noteworthy.

Nor did the victories of the juniors come to an end when they passed from the hectic freshman life to a more dignified existence as sophomores, for they conquered the freshman class in two of three contests. Thus, they continued their reign of power, and forced the first year men to wear the traditional freshman caps until spring vacation, although the year before they, on account of their superiority, had been privileged to discard them three months earlier.

The accomplishments of this class were not restricted to the winning of inter-class contests, but extended throughout the entire life of the University. In athletics, the juniors have contributed many famous men who have helped to make the name of Ohio Wesleyan a synonym for powerful teams, and whose names are already written on the list of those who have attained a high proficiency in the athletic history of the University. Scholastically, the class of 1930 has done its share in maintaining the high standards of the school.

With one more year before them, the juniors can look back with satisfaction upon the achievements of the past, and turn to the future with the assurance that, because of their many abilities and because of the spirit of Ohio Wesleyan which is so much a part of them, they can not fail to fulfill their early promise.

The Sophomore Class

THE CLASS OF 1931 came to Ohio Wesleyan's campus in September 1927 on a warm day, wondering where the incessant rain of Delaware was, of which they had heard so much, and wondering also, just how soon they could sign up for the only course that they had been urged to take—that of Bunology.

Freshmen Days were like a mirage, so quickly did they pass; friends were made, and in that time everyone attempted to make us feel that traditional Ohio Wesleyan spirit. As Freshmen, though unforunate in losing the tug-o'-war, we did show the Sophomores that we had some power by winning the football rush. Later, in the football game vs. Sophomores we were again victorious. Class history, though a little illegal, was written in the usual Freshman-Sophomore struggle just before the yearlings were permitted to throw away their caps. Fraternity "Hell" week was a blur in which we all suffered, and we were glad when haircuts again became the style. The class had a total of one hundred who made over two points at the end of the first semester. Thus the class of 1931 approached 1928 with memories of the Sulphur Spring in the past.

In the fail of 1928, with a decrease in members, we came back—the meek, mild Frosh of last year, now the terrible domineering Sophomore, before whom we hoped to see the Freshmen cower. We were now a part of the campus and we sought the recognition due us. The women came back to find that the women of the new class were required to wear Frosh caps, a new tradition, which offered us greater possibilities to torment the yearling.

At the end of the second semester, our class began looking forward in high anticipation to 1929, and our Junior year, confident that we had proved worthy to be considered as upper-classmen.

The Freshman Class

WE ARE the freshman class, the class of 1932. We came to Delaware on September 13. (Luck was with us!) We underwent Freshman Days; we were introduced to each other and we were introduced to the school. We were given everything from luncheons to nut tests. We were lectured to and lectured at. Some of us paid attention and some of us didn't.

The men of us were pledged to the brotherly organizations before many of us knew what it was all about. The women of us still waited anxiously but hopefully. We still were careful to wear our best clothes and command all our wisest wise cracks to the front.

We signed for classes, some that we wanted, some that we didn't, and some that we didn't know anything about.

Under the leadership of John "Red" Halliday, our senior sponsor, we mustered our forces and met the sophomores in the two most exciting frays of the year. In both we were victorious.

We, the freshmen women, were forced to wear red and black tams, something our predecessors did not have to submit to. Becoming? Doubtful. Original? Very much so. Faithfully we wore them, along with our brothers. Faithfully we called dates in Monnett Hall when we failed.

After that things went more smoothly. The women of us celebrated by burning a huge efigy of the hated freshman caps on the campus in front of Monnett Hall. Hence, after that, we went without them unmolested. Because of our victory over the sophomore class in the two battles of prowess the men of us discarded the freshman headgear soon after the Christmas recess and made after-chapel cap inspection a mere memory.

Grades were issued. Some of us made them, some of us didn't. Some of us were initiated. Much to our delight hell week was a bit tempered for us. Why, we do not know. A new system of initiation was tried out.

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT...

SKIFF Executive President

Womens' Student Government Association

ALL UNDERGRADUATE women of Ohio Wesleyan University are members of the Women's Student Government Association. Because the University

Foster Executive Secretary

Council believed that a system of self government properly administered would advance the best interests of the University and develop character and self-control among the women it granted a charter for such an organization.

The purpose of the Women's Student Government 'Association is to provide a medium through which the various women's activities on the campus may be coordinated and matters of general interest handled. To promote the spiritual, intellectual, and physical welfare of its members and foster an intelligent interest in all phases of college citizenship are the aims of the organization.

The Ohio Wesleyan Association is a member of the eastern section of the Women's Inter-collegiate Association for Student Government. Ohio Wesleyan has the distinction of having its own Student Government executive president, Thelma Skiff, hold the office of vice-president and treasurer of the national organization.

The Association consists of members from each of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes, two freshmen representatives, and the house presidents of Monnett and Austin Halls.

Many of the important campus projects of the women are sponsored by the Student Government Association. The Big and Little Sister Hop held soon after registration in the fall is given by the Association. The May Day Senior Breakfast, a quaint tradition of the pleasant days preceding graduation, is an Association project. Monnett Day is perhaps the greatest responsibility that the Student Government Board assumes. The planning and carrying out of the program is largely done by the Association in cooperation with other women's organizations on the campus.

It has been the policy of the Association Board during 1928-29 to grant more permissions than ever before, thereby entrusting to the women greater responsibility for their conduct. This policy reflects the principle on which student government is based, namely: that only through the cooperation of all the members can the making and enforcement of the Association rules succeed.

Both an Executive and Judicial Board are vested with the power of administration. The president of the Association, a senior, is the executive president. The vice president, also a senior, serves automatically as president of the Judiciary. Other members of the Executive Board include the secretary and treasurer, both of the junior class. The Judiciary, which has among its other responsibilities the administering of penalities, is composed of the Judiciary and Executive presidents, Judiciary and Executive secretaries, the treasurer, one representative.

Because membership in the Student Government Association is involuntary there are no dues. A small tax is added to the tuition fee to cover all necessary expenses. An examination is given the freshmen every year over the rules of the organization to be sure that they are understood.

Permissions to leave town and special permissions for freshmen are granted only by Mrs. Eugenie R. Overturf, Dean of Women. All other permissions are given by the executive or judiciary presidents of the Student Government Association.

The idea of self-government has proved unusually successful among the women of the university, the board working in harmony with both students and faculty.

Austin Hall

THERE is a large painting above the colonial fireplace in Austin Hall parlor. It is the portrait of one of the greatest men in the history of Ohio Wesleyan University, Dean Cyrus Brooks Austin. Dean Austin, in various capacities, was intimately connected with the university from the time of his graduation in 1879 until his death on September 11, 1924. From 1883 until 1920 Dean Austin was dean of women and in that position, with Mrs. Austin, had complete control of the women's division of the college. Dean Austin was the only so called vice-president Ohio Wesleyan has ever had. In addition he was head of the College of Music and the College of Fine Arts.

As a monument to the splendid spirit and valuable accomplishments of Dean Austin, Austin Hall stands with its great white pillars and old colonial porch, casting a spell of dignity, culture, and formality over the whole of Monnett Campus. Austin Hall was opened for the first time in September of 1923 and since that time has housed over two hundred women each year, mostly juniors and seniors. Its spacious corridors, its formal parlors, its reception halls and lounging rooms, its colonial dining room with modern equipment, an office, and a suite of rooms for the dean or house director occupy the first floor together with a number of bedrooms. In the basement is a recreation hall for parties and dancing. Each of the four floors has a large, light informal study hall.

With the older and more informal Monnett Hall, which is connected with the new dormitory by an open court and underground tunnel, Austin Hall is a pleasing contrast.

A LAST LOOK in the huge mirror at the end of the hall—a telephone's impatient jangling—dates waiting nervously—a sweetheart serenade in the court—dancing in the gym—last minute dressing for dinner—a sideways glance into the "shiek" parlor—the night watchman drousing in the hall—an unexpected fire drill—Monnett Hall.

Back in 1885, when there existed an Ohio Wesleyan Female College distinct from the university, the south wing was built, named for Miss Mary Monnett. It is now the second largest women's dormitory in the country, with nearly three hundred girls occupying it.

A year at Monnett hall is a tradition of the undergraduate days of the Ohio Wesleyan women, and many choose it for all three years. Somehow, behind its doors and in its many corners, Monnett holds the secret and the spirit of Ohio Wesleyan University for the past seventy-five years.

Women's Physical Education Department

THE Women's Physical Education Department of Ohio Wesleyan, under the head of Miss Manchester, offers throughout the year a varied and well organized program for the women of the University. The success of the department may be attributed to the excellent instruction and cooperation of the staff. Instructors of the department include Miss Page—Educational Dancing; Miss Stockham—Fundamental Danish Gymnastics, Folk Dancing, and Clogging; Miss Tarbell—Individual, and Corrective Gymnastics; and Miss Eastburn, in charge of Swimming, and the Intramural division of the department.

The ultimate goal for which the department is working is toward a Women's Building, where all the various women's organizations on the campus, and divisions of the department will have their headquarters, and will be able to cooperate more easily. This ideal arose through the expansion of the athletic department, and the extension of the Intermural program, which has increased to approximately a thousand women this last year. In March a campaign was put on under the direction of Miss Manchester, in order to raise money for the building, for it is only through a conscious effort that this dream will ever be attained. Plans have not definitely been drawn up, but the hoped-for building will include a large lounge where teas and receptions may be had; a library and general reading room; and a special library for Physical Education majors; offices or one large office in which there will be desks for each of the women's organizations on the campus, and for the divisions of the department; two separate gymnasiums, and a corrective room; a swimming pool, individual showers, and a large locker room with individual lockers.

It is the aim of the department to have as many women as possible participating in sports. In 1925, approximately four hundred and forty-three women took part in the Intramural Program. Each year there has been a marked increase, with over a thousand out this year. This year for the first time, Intramurals, in an attempt to extend the program, included Inter-Sorority basketball, in addition to the usual hockey, soccer, bowling, baseball and tennis.

Momens' Athletic Council

PROMOTING and directing the outstanding athletic events of the year is the task of the Women's Athletic Council. The original membership of the Council was enlarged in 1928 from class representatives to its present composition of the managers of all sports, a social chairman, and a representative of Orchesis, Intramurals, and Twin W.

Along with the increased size of the organization has come a corresponding enlargement of the field of its activities. The intramural sports of bowling, basketball, tennis, track, and baseball are sponsored by the Council, who schedules and referees all games. The annual Field Day, in which girls from all sports participate, is held under the auspices of the Council.

In addition to its management of sports, the Council provides an important social function through the Women's Athletic Association Banquet which is given each year for all girls who are interested in athletics, regardless of whether or not they are members of the Association.

The Riding and Swimming Clubs were both organized during the past year due to the efforts of the Council. The new groups provide recreation for many girls who are interested in these activities.

At present, the dominant ambition of the Council is the erection of a Women's Building in which there will be a Y. W. C. A. office, Student Government rooms and lounges, as well as a gymnasium and swimming pool. It is to be modelled on the pattern of Pomerene Hall at Ohio State, although it is intended to be even larger and tiner. In order to bring this ideal closer to fulfillment, a drive was made in March in which teams representing each class competed. One thousand dollars was the goal set, with each girl asked to contribute at least one dollar. Because of the service which it renders to the girls of the University, The Women's Athletic Council deserves the cooperation of everyone.

TWIN "W" was organized as a women's honorary athletic society for the purpose of promoting excellency in one sport. It functions in assisting the Athletic Executive Board in carrying out their athletic and social programs, such as assisting in conducting tournaments, and in publicity work in all matters pertaining to the activities of Women's Athletic Association.

The basis of membership is not only individual skill in one sport, but in addition, teamwork, and good sportsmanship; the women awarded the "W" must be voted on by the members of the club, and they must have the recommendation of the coach in the sport that they represent. Active members include any girl who has been awarded a "W" in a sport. Honorary members to Twin "W" include the Head of the Women's Physical Education Department, the Faculty Head or Heads of Sports, and the President of the Executive Board, unless she is an active member of the Twin "W" by virtue of her "W." The president is automatically a member of the Executive Board of W. A. A. The membership is not limited, but the high standards required for the award necessarily keep the group small.

GROUND-STICKS, ground-sticks, and they are off down the field for a fast game of hockey. This is the sport which holds the attention of the girls until late in the fall.

This fall when a call was issued by Coach Eastburn for candidates for the squads a large number responded, so that each class had at least one complete team; and the freshmen had two teams. Soon after practice was started; captains and managers for the various squads were chosen: Seniors, Ethel Klund and Virginia Whitney; Juniors, Louisa Worley and Elizabeth Menke; Sophomores, Isabelle McDowell and Elizabeth McKee; and Freshmen, Ernestine Van Dis and Alice Klund.

ON ACCOUNT of the cold weather coming so early this year the woman's soccer team was not able to complete its season. Enthusiasm for the game was shown by the number of girls who came out to practice. It was thought that the team would be one of the best teams in women's sports this year, but the short season prevented its having any games. Several times during the year so few turned out for practice that other games were played instead of soccer.

Basketball

THE Physical Education Department offers to the women throughout the year several classes in basketball, coached by Miss Stockham. As a part of the extensive Intramural program, Inter-class teams are formed from these classes. Inter-class basketball is under the supervision of Miss Eastburn, who has charge of arranging the schedule for practices and games.

PRACTICES are usually held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. A chance is given at these practices to make up class teams, the games starting early in March.

Rules governing Intramural basketball require that every woman playing must have a heart examination. For the first time this year Inter-sorority basketball has been offered, with practically the same regulations as for Inter-class. No one can play on more than one team, and each team is required to have at least eight players on hand—three forwards, three guards, and two substitutes.

Baseball

BASEBALL was followed with as much interest last spring as had followed the sports preceding it, namely: hockey, soccer, bowling, and basketball.

Soon after Spring Vacation, practices were called for each class. Both the Juniors and Seniors had enough players for one team while both the Sophomores and Freshmen had two complete teams. Later in the season a tournament was held with each team playing each other team twice. The Seniors with the skill of four years won the championship with the Sophomores in second place.

Bottom Row: Biddle, Richards, Haskins, Frick, Hauser, Peterson, Laird.

CAPTAINS were elected from each class to head their respective teams. Maxine Akens was chosen for senior captain; Vi Gerdum was named captain of the Junior squad; the Sophomore squad was under the leadership of Hazel Miller; and the Freshmen were headed by Elizabeth McKee.

Miss Pierce had charge of inter-class baseball as well as an inter-sorority baseball tournament which was held late in the spring.

The Athletic Year at Ohio Wesleyan

By GEORGE E. GAUTHIER

RECOGNITION for the success in athletics during the year 1928-1929 is due entirely to the spirit and desire for success in their chosen activity by the boys who have been participating in Varsity sports.

Whenever Ohio Wesleyan has such fine characters taking part in athletics as Kane, Lambacher, Kerr, Scribner, Slavosky, and Halliday, the winning of Ohio Conference and Buckeye Athletic Conference Championships is a comparatively easy problem.

In basketball, Hnizder, Siegenthaler, Thomas, and Halliday are names that will long be remembered as responsible for our Buckeye Conference Championship in that sport.

In football the 1928 season will be remembered not only for the tie in the Buckeye Athletic Conference Championship, but for defeating Michigan and Syracuse, and these games will always be hooked up with such names as Glancy, Halliday, Abbey, Kyle, Campbell, Scribner, Coleman and many others.

I am delighted to give a word of appreciation for the splendid work our athletes have done this past year. Their success can be attributed to their personal ability, the team spirit, and the determination to succeed in the thing they desired to do.

Ohio Wesleyan can well expect the continued success as long as the present spirit prevails, and we have as fine a type of Freshmen entering the University as the Seniors who are leaving.

DR. WILLIAM F. ROBERTS, Professor of Hygiene and Physical Education, is a graduate of Harvard, having received a B. A. degree in 1898 and an M. D. in 1902. Before coming to Ohio Weslyean, Dr. Roberts was Director of Physical Education at the Cleveland Y. M. C. A. during the years 1906-1921. Since that time he has been at the head of the Physical Education Department of Ohio Wesleyan, in which capacity he is trying to develop the students of the University in a physical way.

GEORGE E. GAUTHIER, Professor of Physical Education and Director of Athletics, received the B. S. degree from Michigan State College in 1914. From 1914-1920 he was Assistant Director of Athletics at Michigan State, coaching football, basketball, and track. Since 1921 he has been Director of Athletics at Ohio Wesleyan, coaching varsity football, and freshman and varsity track. During his term at Wesleyan the athletic department has been completely reorganized and the athletics of the school are now receiving national recognition.

WALTER C. FREEMAN, Director of Gymnastics for Men and Instructor in Physical Education, is a graduate of Battle Creek Normal School 1914, and of New Haven School of Physiotherapy 1925. After acting in the capacity of coach and physical director in several cities he came to Ohio Wesleyan in 1920. At the present time he is coach of the freshman and varsity gym teams. In addition, he is Director of the Department of Physical Therapy which looks after the physical fitness of the men engaging in athletics for the school.

GEORGE R. STATEN, Assistant Director of Athletics and Instructor in Physical Education, graduated with a B. A. degree from Ohio Wesleyan in 1924. Since that time he has continued to serve the school as a member of the athletic staff of the University. At the present time he is head coach of freshman football, freshman basketball, varsity baseball, and assistant coach of varsity football. To him also belongs considerable credit for our fine showing in athletics during recent years.

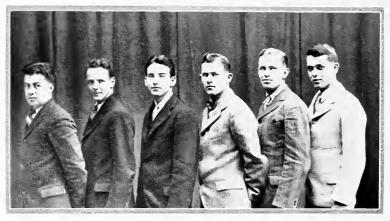

RAYMOND O. DETRICK, Instructor in Physical Education, received the B. A. degree from Wittenberg in 1921, and a B. P. E. from Harvard in 1926. Before coming to Ohio Wesleyan he was Physical Director and coach at Mt. Union College, and later at Highland Park High School and Junior College at Detroit. From Highland Park he came to Wesleyan in 1926, where he now coaches freshman football and varsity basketball. Much credit for the success of Wesleyan's basketball teams must be given to Coach Detrick.

FREDERICK C. MACKEY, Instructor in Physical Education, was graduated from Ohio State University in 1927 with the B. S. degree. Upon completing his undergraduate work at State, he immediately joined the Wesleyan coaching staff where he now coaches the varsity football line, and freshman baseball. He also has charge of all intramural athletics of the school in his capacity as Intramural Director.

HARRY W. SIMESTER, Instructor in Physical Education, received the B. P. E. degree from the Chicago Y. M. C. A. College in 1926. Coming to Wesleyan in 1927 he now has charge of both freshman and varsity swimming. He also is an instructor in physical education for freshmen and sophomore men, teaching life saving in addition to gymnastics. His duties have an important part in keeping underclassmen in good physical condition.

THOMAS J. TYLER, trainer for all the numerous athletic teams of Ohio Wesleyan, is a graduate of this school. After completing his work at the University as a student he joined the athletic staff of the Physical Education Department. He now acts as trainer and as assistant to head coach Gauthier in track. He is also in charge of the purchase and care of all athletic equipment for the school. His work is very vital to the success of our teams as he is responsible for the training of the men representing the University in athletics.

Wesleyan's System of Captaincies

Ohio Wesleyan has fallen in line with other colleges in the rather novel method of selecting captains of the various major sports. For the past two years, captains have been chosen not before the season, as in the past, but after the season is over. Thus, the athletic board removed the selection of captains from the control of fraternity politics and made the positions entirely honorary.

Under this new system the coach of each sport selects a "game captain" for each game or event during the season and when the schedule has been completed the lettermen ballot for their choice of an honorary captain for the season just ended. Senior members of the team usually are the ones given the honor, and justly so, for often they have given three years of excellent service, athletically, to their alma mater, and in all fairness should be favored over the younger athletes.

James "Red" Glancy was voted the honorary captaincy of the football team during the past season, and John "Red" Halliday was named honorary basketball captain. Glancy played fullback on the football team and was in every game of the season. He was in the limelight especially in the 17 to 7 win over Michigan when he booted a goal from the field that helped the Bishops considerably. Halliday, a football and track man also, played guard in basketball. Both Glancy and Halliday were given all-Ohio berths in football and Halliday made the all-Buckeye second team in Basketball.

For track last year, Carl "Count" Slavosky was made honorary captain. He was a dependable quarter-miler for three years and topped off his college career with a brilliant victory in his specialty at the Big Six meet at Wooster. Joe Hartley was honorary baseball captain. He was centerfielder on the diamond nine.

New Selby Athletic Field

Ohio Wesleyan is to have an athletic field as complete in equipment and as fine in quality as any university field now in use.

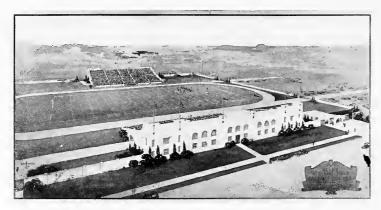

Completely equipped the field will cost in excess of $150,000 according to present plans and estimates. A gift of $100,000 has been made by Pearl Selby, Lakewood, and Homer, Roger, and Mark Selby, Portsmouth. The field will be known as Selby Field in honor of their father, the late George D. Selby, Portsmouth, benefactor of Ohio Wesleyan University and for twenty-four years a member of the board of trustees.

There will be two concrete stands with a total seating capacity of 9,000 and will be equipped for football and track. The stadium will be unique, according to pre-liminary plans drawn up by the Osborne Engineering Co., Cleveland, in that all the seats will be inside the 15 yard lines.

Beneath one stand, will be two complete sets of team rooms, shower rooms, drying rooms, trainer's rooms, and offices. One suite will be used by the varsity team and the other by the freshman teams. The freshman team room will be thrown open to visiting teams at all intercollegiate contests.

Special dressing and shower rooms for officials will be another feature of the equipment, making it unnecessary for officials to meet players of either team off the field.

Proposed Selby Athletic Field

The press box which will be the largest in Ohio outside of the Ohio State Stadium is to be heated and protected by glass. Ample shelter space is to be provided under the stands to protect the crowds in case of bad weather. Equipment for track is to include two 220 yard straightways.

Edwards Field will be remodelled for use as a basketball and additional intramural field, according to present plans for the rebuilding of Ohio Wesleyan's athletic plant. Additional tennis courts will be constructed also.

Harold K. Ferguson, Cleveland, Ohio Wesleyan alumnus and trustee, has conducted negotiations for the new field for the university.

Football 1928

FOOTBALL HISTORY was made by Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops during the 1928 season when the Methodist eleven attracted nation-wide attention by defeating Michigan, Syracuse and six other opponents before losing to Wittenberg, 7 to 6, in the final game on Edwards field. The defeat forced Ohio Wesleyan into a tie with Wittenberg for the Buckeye conference championship.

After handing Marietta a 33 to 0 defeat in the opener on Edwards field, the Bishops entrained to Ann Arbor and there bearded the Wolverines of the University of Michigan in their own lair to the surprising tune of 17 to 7. That victory put Ohio Wesleyan's name in every sport page of the country.

Buckeye conference victories over Cincinnati, Miami, Denison, and Ohio and non-conference win over Wooster and Syracuse brought the team up to its final game with Wittenberg, which the Lutherans won in the last quarter after being outplayed throughout.

Syracuse offered stiff opposition to the Bishops in their game at Syracuse, but the Red and Black was not to be denied. "Chuck" Wertz's sensational catch of a pass from Reger brought the Bishops a touchdown and a 6 to 0 victory. Prior to this year, Wesleyan and Syracuse had played two tie games, 3 to 3 and 6 to 6.

Ohio Wesleyan 33 - Marietta 0

The Battling Bishops opened their 1928 campaign by driving roughshod 33 to 0 over the lighter Marietta gridders September 29 on Edwards Field. The game belonged to Wesleyan from the kick-off. Wesleyan displayed a clever line from end to end and a gold mine of backfield material, with such consistent ground gainers as Glancy, Halliday, Thomas, Breese, Franz and McKinney.

Thomas' deceptive broken field running, Breese' punting, and several brilliant passes from Halliday to Siegenthaler, were the high lights in a game which designated both a strong offensive and defensive power on Wesleyan's part. The entire squad of almost four teams was used in this first encounter.

The First Touchdown of the Year-Scored on Marietta

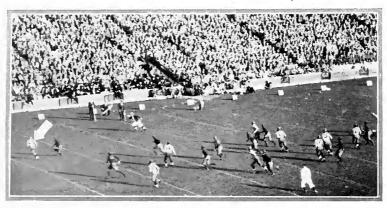

Ohio Wesleyan 17 — Michigan 7

Wesleyan next went to Michigan and supplied the most inglorious defeat which a Michigan team has suffered in many years, to the tune of 17-7. The Bishops completely outrushed, outpassed, and outputted their Big Ten opponents.

Wesleyan's scores came as the result of a strong pass attack and brilliant end runs in the second quarter, a 57-yard run by Halliday in the third quarter, and a field goal kicked by Captain "Red" Glancy in the last quarter.

The Bishops made ten first downs to Michigan's five and advanced the ball for more than twice the yardage of the Wolverines. This was the first defeat ever given a Yost coached team in an opening game.

Breese Intercepts a Michigan Pass

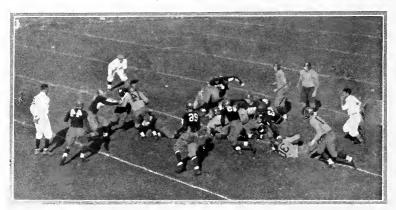

Ohio Wesleyan 71 — Cincinnati 0

On October 13, Wesleyan's astounding aerial attack contributed much to the most overwhelming victory of the Season against Cincinnati, when the Bearcats were swamped, 71 to 0. Wesleyan gained 506 yeards through the line to 6 for Cincinnati.

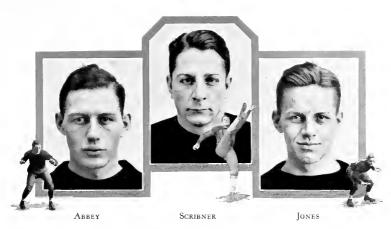

Ohio Wesleyan 12-Miami 0

After being held scoreless the first half by a scrappy and surprisingly strong Miami eleven, the Bishops sprang a powerful attack in the third and fourth quarters, and blasted Miami's Homecoming hopes to the tune of 12-0 on October 20.

A Bit of Action From the Miami Game

Ohio Wesleyan 11 — Denison 0

Wesleyan annexed her fifth win at the University Homecoming, October 27, by downing the high-powered Denison eleven, 11 to 0. Although the game was played on a sloppy field, the Bishop ground gainers piled up 225 yards to 82 for Denison.

Ohio Wesleyan 45 — Wooster 6

The Bishops wrecked the fourth Homecoming of the season when they crushed Wooster, 45 to 6, on November 3. Halliday's plunging, running and passing, and a brilliant run by Wertz for a touchdown featured this game, in which Wooster's defense crumbled a few minutes after the opening whistle.

One of the Many Touchdowns at Wooster

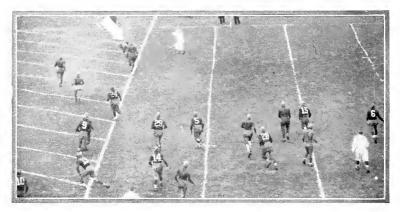

Ohio Wesleyan 6 - Syracuse 0

Having tied the Orange for two successive years, The Bishops traveled to Syracuse and defeated the strong Syracuse team, 6 to 0. The team had little trouble in gaining at will through the line and stopping the Orange backs. The Reserve team was able to score where the Varsity was not, for Wertz snatched a pass from Reger over the line and scored the lone touchdown.

Although the field was in a sloppy condition, the Wesleyan line supplied the backs with fine interference and played one of the best games of the season.

The Bishops made 15 first downs to 11 for Syracuse and outrushed the Orange by a large margin. Franz again proved a thorn in the side of Syracuse when he contributed several substantial gains, which led to the single touchdown.

Wertz Going Over For the Only Score at Syracuse

Ohio Wesleyan 7 — Ohio University 0

The Bishops met some of the stiffest opposition of the year when the Bobeats were defeated on Edwards Field in the annual Dads' Day game on November 17. In the first quarter, vicious drives by Glancy, Halliday, Thomas, and Breese just fell short of a score. Wertz's sensational eighty-yard run was the only score of the game.

Ohio Wesleyan 6 — Wittenberg 7

A glorious season was spoiled in the final game, when Wittenberg defeated the Bishops on Edwards field on November 24, 7-6. A pass over the goal line brought Wittenberg a score near the end of the game, after the Bishops had scored and had failed to kick the goal, and a straight kick between the goal posts by Bill Edwards gave Wittenberg the winning point.

FOLLOWING in the path of the victorious Bishop football team, Ohio Wesleyan's basketball team scored 13 straight victories during the past season before being stopped by what seems to be the perennial bugaboo of Bishop teams—Wittenberg. The Lutherans nosed out the Methodist five at Wittenberg before 3,500 fans, 39 to 28.

Victories over Ohio State, Cedarville, Akron Goodyear, Kent State Normal, Toledo St. John's, Western State Normal, Manchester, Michigan State and the University of Dayton were recorded before the Bishops met Ohio in Edwards gym in the spring Buckeye game which they tucked on the right side of the ledger. Cincinnati, Miami and Ohio in turn scored victories over the Bishops before the latter came back to beat Cincinnati, Denison and Wittenberg to tie for the Buckeye conference title with Cincinnati.

Floyd Siegenthaler, rangy center, and Harry Hnizder, forward, were the stars of the season. Siegenthaler led the conference in soring with 106 points and Hnizder was third with 90. Both, in addition to Thomas, a guard, were put on the all-Buckeyet team, while Halliday was given a guard post on the second team. The teams were selected by Buckeye coaches. Siegenthaler and Thomas are among the veterans who will return next year.

Baseball 1928

SIX VICTORIES in ten Buckeye conference games failed to win for the Bishops the Buckeye baseball crown last spring, Cincinnati copping the championship after a hectic campaign.

Coach George Staten's team twice defeated Wittenberg and Denison and split even with Ohio State and Oberlin, both of which resulted in defeats for the Bishops.

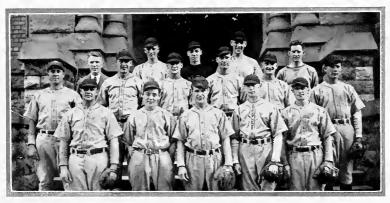

The playing of Harry Hnizder, of basketball fame, at shortstop and "Danny" Healy at third base were the bright spots of the season. Both men were consistent afield and also provided plenty of punch at the bat.

STATEN, Coach

Hit-and-miss pitching affected the team considerably. None of the members of the pitching staff were consistent, each turning in a brilliant performance on one occasion and then an equally poor exhibition on the next assignment. Shaper, Misamore, Williams, Myers and Hamilton did the twirling.

For the first time in years the team failed to make a southern trip but instead worked out on the home diamond against the Erie club of the Central league, which held its spring training in Delaware.

Track 1928

Ohio Wesleyan enjoyed a tremendously successful track season last spring when Coach George Gauthier's men were crowned champions of not only the Buckeye conference but also of the "Big Six," which includes the strongest members of the Ohio conference of which the Buckeye teams formerly were members.

After several indoor meets which put the Bishops into condition for the outdoor competition, they lost to Ohio State, 86 to 40, and then swamped both Georgetown and Miami in dual meets.

GAUTHIER Coach

The Methodists turned in a decisive victory over Denison, Muskingum and Ohio University in a quadrangular meet, scoring 107 points to 45½ for Denison, their nearest opponent.

At the Buckeye meet in Oxford the Bishops were hard pressed by Miami, but finally won out. They scored 86 points to 76.2 for Miami. Denison, Cincinnati and Ohio trailed far behind.

Oberlin battled Ohio Wesleyan for top honors at the Big Six meet in Wooster, but Wesleyan's superiority soon showed itself, the Bishops scoring 57.2 points to win the meet as compared to 37.7 for Oberlin. Miami and Wooster finished next in order.

Kane, hurdler; Lambacher and Pettibone, sprinters; Kerr, pole vaulter; Scribner, discus tosser; and Slavosky, quarter-miler, were among the season's point-getters.

THE 1928 Cross Country Season came to a fitting climax when the Ohio Wesleyan harriers decisively trimmed the field at the Buckeye Meet at Delaware. Previous to this, the team had won three meets and lost two. With five veterans returning for the next season, prospects are bright for the 1929 Cross Country Team.

Gym Team

THE Ohio Wesleyan Gym Team experienced a rather unsuccessful season, due to the fact that all meets scheduled were with large universities, including Ohio State, Pennsylvania, Chicago, and the Navy. The team however, made excellent showings, and with several members of this team returning for the next season and with some bright prospects on the Freshman Squad, the Gym Team looks forward to a more successful year in 1929.

Fencing

FENCING as a collegiate sport is practiced, as a rule, only by the larger schools. However, Ohio Wesleyan has had a team in inter-collegiate competition for two years. The formation of this team was undertaken by undergraduates, interested in the sport. Interest in this interesting sport is growing and teams in the future will be correspondingly better.

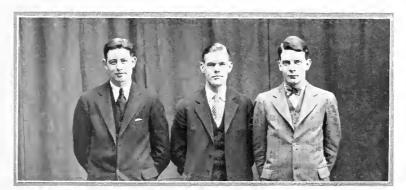

Wesleyan has had to step out of its class in order to schedule meets, but the team has made a commendable showing and the results have encouraged the team and its supporters to continue.

There has been no regular coach. The members of the team work on the points learned in contacts with other fencers. One of the members of the Ohio State fencing team has been giving part time instruction which has been of exceptionally great value to the team.

Four men compose the team; Miller, Duerr, Craig and Peace. Craig was selected as captain.

Golf

Ohio Wesleyan was again this year represented in golf, which is fast becoming a foremost collegiate sport. In spite of the need of a coach, inopportune weather, and improper playing conditions, the golf team turned in a commendable record, winning three of the six matches played.

The team was strengthened by Swan and Bailey, veterans of the 1927 season. These men, with Clymer and Gill, composed the team which made the trips to other Ohio colleges. Clymer and Gill were awarded letters and Bailey was chosen as honorary captain of the team at the conclusion of the season.

It is hoped that the interest shown of late in intramural golf will tend to strengthen the prospects of a powerful 'Varsity team in future years. With Gill and Clymer as a nucleus around which to build the 1929 golf team, and with a wealth of material from the intramural ranks, Ohio Wesleyan shall be well represented in the coming years in intercollegiate golf circles.

Red Cross Life Saving Corps

WITHIN the past few year, there has been made on the part of the American Red Cross a concentrated effort to establish Charter Life Saving Corps in the various American Colleges and Universities. Today a great majority of the schools of our country are sponsoring such organizations, with the result that each year thousands of reports come to the Red Cross Headquarters of lives which have been saved by student members of their Charter Corps. The maintenance and development of the Red Cross Life Saving Corps is a distinctly preventative service, which year by year is eliminating the loss of life caused by drowning.

The Corps at Ohio Wesleyan University was granted a charter in 1921, with ten charter members. There now are some twenty members of the organization, and its steady growth is assured by the renewal of interest year by year. For the current year, James Shelly has served as President of the Corps, with Elmer Doe as Secretary-Treasurer. The Senior Examiners Doe, Ewing, and Shelly have assisted in the training of prospective Life Savers for the County examination. Classes are conducted several times during the week until near the end of the year, when those who successfully accomplish the requirements are admitted as members of the Charter Corps.

It is hoped that there will be an expansion of this movement at Ohio Wesleyan, just as the larger universities of the country have contributed to a very great degree in its success.

THE SIGMA CHI sprint relay team, composed of F. Thomas, Wertz, Spoonamore, and L. Thomas, easily defeated Phi Kappa Tau in the finals of that event. The same men, composing the medley relay team, lapped the Betas in the finals of that event. In both events, new Edwards Gymnasium intramural records were established.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

Lewis D. Syester President of the Student Body

The Student Council

THE STUDENT COUNCIL is the highest student organization on the campus. It is the only student group of both men and women, which has any legislative power, and its jurisdiction covers the whole realm of student activities.

The Council is composed of the officers of the student body, officers of the various classes, the presidents of Women's Student Government, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Athletic Board of Control, Debate and Oratory Council, Honor Court; and the editor of the Transcript. The various classes elect non-fraternity, and non-sorority representatives to the council. The President of the Student Body is at once President of the Council, while the secretary and treasurer of the student body occupy the same positions in the council.

During the year 1928-1929 the guiding thought of the council has been to cooperate with our new President, Dr. Soper. It has been desired to save him from embarrassment, and to aid him in a progressive program.

Hand in hand with President Soper, the council, working under the guidance of a newly created social committee, has made sincere effort to cope with a perplexing campus social problem. The council petition to the faculty, embodying several fundamental suggestions, was based upon the findings of this group.

Problems concerned with various campus traditions, limitation of participation in various activities, chapel and student mass meetings, announcements and systems of bulletin boards are among the many questions which have this year confronted the council.

The Student Executive Council

THE STUDENT EXECUTIVE COUNCIL is a small but important body which is composed of the following people: the President of the Student Body, the Editor of the Transcript, Women's Student Government President, the President of the Debate and Oratory Council, the President of the Senior Class, and the Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Body.

The chief purpose of the council is to provide a quick means of settling problems arising under the jurisdiction of the Student Council, since all members of the Student Executive Council are members of the Student Council. With this condition existing, the work of this council is perhaps fully as important as that of the larger group. Indeed, in many instances time does not permit the meeting of the larger group when action is quickly demanded. An example of this was shown when the Student Council was called upon to settle the question of cap-inspection. The Executive Council was able to meet in time to act on the question quickly and efficiently to the best interests of everyone concerned. For this reason this organization is of immeasureable value to the campus.

Student Finance Council

THE STUDENT FINANCE COUNCIL has under its direction the student financial affairs of the Ohio Wesleyan Campus. Composed as it is of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Body as chairman and the treasurers of the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, Freshman classes, its control over matters pecuniary can be easily comprehended.

To this body must come for consideration all changes in the financial policies of the Student Body or that of any of the four classes. It checks and oversees the work of the organizations represented by its members, directs their financial policies and generally aids the efficient distribution of their funds. Through it or its individual members all expenditures of groups represented are made and accounts of the organizations are kept.

The members and officers of the organization for the school year of 1928-1929 are Paul Dull, who as Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Body, acted as chairman of the Council; John Thomas, Treasurer of the Class of 1929; Ralph Winters, Treasurer of the Class of 1930; Paul White, Sophomore Class Treasurer; and James Kinnev. Treasurer of the Freshman Class.

Flonor Court

DESIRING to maintain a system of self-government the Student Body of Ohio Wesleyan established in 1910-11 the Honor Court. A Constitution was established, providing for the election of a Court whose duties are to investigate all violations of the honor system in class-room work. They decide on the innocence or guilt of the accused students and if they are found guilty, a penalty is affixed, subject to the approval of the University Council.

The Court is composed of five members of the Senior Class two of which are women, three members of the Junior Class, one of which is a woman, and two members from the Sophomore Class, one of which is a woman. At all meetings of the Honor Court there must be a member of the faculty who has been appointed to serve on the Faculty Committee. The President of the University appoints the Committee and it has a purely advisory relation and will weigh the evidence, as it is presented, and will give their opinion as to its value. They have no vote in determining the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Until this year it was necessary for the Court to meet practically once a week. This year there have not been more than six or eight cases.

Committee of Seven

THE PURPOSE of the Committee of Seven is to popularize the Honor Court. The favor and success with which the Honor Court system has been met on the Ohio Wesleyan campus is a very strong indication that the work of the committee has been successful.

The Committee of Seven is the connecting link between the Honor Court and the student body and faculty. To see that there is a perfect understanding of and a correct attitude toward the Honor Court is the principal problem of the committee.

At the beginning of the year the members of the committee meet with the new faculty members. In this way they obtain new ideas and made certain that the Honor Court regulations were understood in detail. During the year each of the seven made it his responsibility to interview twenty students in order to find out whether the Honor Court system was working properly. The fact that system seems to be functioning on the Ohio Wesleyan campus much better than on most university campuses is most encouraging to the committee.

Posters, reminding students that "Honor" is the word were posted in all class rooms and recitation halls by the committee. At examination time blotters bearing the word, "Honor" along with the examination schedule were distributed.

The chairman of the committee, who during 1928-29 was Chad Dunham, is admitted to the Honor Court meetings. One Freshman and two members of each of the other classes comprise the committee.

Student Chest

THERE comes a time in every college year at Ohio Wesleyan University when the student body is called upon to show its appreciation of the work done both on and off the campus by welfare organizations. The Student Chest, since its organization soon after the war along with the Community Chest and other similar organizations, has been an annual expression of the loyality of the student body to campus projects.

A new system of both collection and distribution for the Student Chest fund was employed this year. The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. assumed the responsibility of raising money for the off-campus projects. As a result the entire chest fund was divided between the Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A. and Student Loan Fund.

Previous years had seen Student Chest week started off with a pep meeting in chapel and the raising of spirit to such a degree that refusing to give was an impossibility. This year no such pressure was brought to bear. An announcement concerning the progress of the campaign was made each day in chapel during Student Chest week, from December 10 to December 14, and subscriptions were made voluntarily in the chapel corridor. At the beginning of the second semester a personal drive was launched, whereby each person that had not yet contributed was called on personally.

Paul Dull, Secretary-treasurer of the student body, was automatically chairman of the Student Chest committee, which was made up of a student of each class and a faculty committee.

University Social Committee

IN THE EFFORT to find that Utopian mean between the so-called "lounge lizard" and the proverbial college grind, the University Social Committee provides social functions for the entire student body. Until recently, its activities were limited to the managing of Varsity dances, but, this year, the Committee has been divided into three parts—Varsity Dance, Extension, and Campus Functions Committees. This separation of powers has relieved the former overburdened condition of the Social Committee, and by the concentration of each group on particular problems, permits a greater degree of specialization.

The entire social program of the University is financed by the Social Committee, the members of which are appointed annually by the president of the student body.

The work of the Committee this year bears evidence of the efficiency of the new plan. To the Campus Functions Committee was delegated the management of Campus Night. The Extension Committee introduced an innovation by sponsoring the numerous freshman parties. Each member of the class received an invitation to one of them.

Another feature this year was the bringing of a professional social worker to the campus in the spring by the Committee which acted in cooperation with the faculty. The object of this was to secure constructive criticism and expert advice so that a more extensive social program may be arranged, which will better serve the purpose of the organization. It is the intention of the Committee to produce, in the future, more extended and varied opportunities for social life than were possible in the past.

Athenaeum

The ghost of one of the oldest women's organizations ever founded on the Ohio Wesleyan campus still lives.

When Ohio Wesleyan was still young and there was no Orchesis and no English Writers Club and no sorority life, the women of the Ohio Wesleyan Female Seminary expressed their gregarious spirit, their desire to organize, their striving for intellectual attainment and social life, in the form of literary societies. In those days these literary societies were the center of the campus life among the women of the school.

In the beginning there was but one organization, to which all the girls belonged. This was called the "Social Union." They held their first literary programs in the rude chapel of the old seminary with its backless benches, rough table and ancient blackboard, with no piano, no canopy, no colors, nothing except a strip of muslin stretched across the platform, on which was painted their motto and pin.

Out of the "Social Union" there grew the "Red Apron Society" later known as Clionian. In 1861, when Clio became too large, Athenaeum was founded. As a motto the members took "Sense, Shortness and Salt" and modeled their pin after Clio's, an enamel band across which was "Athenaeum."

Soon they began to look for a pin that would be entirely their own. Just then a young army officer came to Delaware, wearing a pin which combined the corps badges of two Michigan regiments, one a star the other a crescent. All a flutter, the Athenaeum girls at once copied the pin, making their star and crescent badge. Dr. McCabe gave them the motto, "Tuebor" which they put on the pin and which is to this day the motto that holds the group together.

When Monnett Hall was built, a special Athenaeum room was arranged on the second floor. The meetings are still held in this room.

The old Athenaeum programs recorded in the secretary's book, worn with age, tell of spelling bees and special day programs, plays and musical numbers which held the attention, first, of the hoop skirted young ladies and, later, their "rat" haired daughters.

"Mutual improvement in elocution, composition and debate and the enlargement of the fund of general knowledge" is, according to the constitution of the society, the fundamental purpose of the organization. Special ability in literary, dancing, dramatic, artistic and musical lines qualified upper classmen for membership, as it does today.

Although specialized clubs in all these lines of endeavor and the introduction of sorority life on the campus have detracted from the early interest shown in literary societies, Athenaeum still functions. It is the only one of the several such societies, formerly so popular, that is still in existence.

Wesleyan Players

Wesleyan Players is the regular dramatic organization of Ohio Wesleyan University. Organized in 1912 as the Histrionic Club, it has been known by that name until this year when the new title was officially adopted. Along with the change in name there came also some fundamental changes in the method of tryout. Entrance to the group may now be won in any of the various branches of the theatre art: acting, play writing, scene-designing and construction, stage management, costuming and lighting. Elections to Active and Associate Membership and to the Players' Reserve occur after each production on the basis of the amount and quality of work done by the various actors and members of the staff. Fifty points entitle one to Active Membership, thirty to Associate Membership, while fifteen points place a candidate on the Players' Reserve. These latter are not members of the regular group but may enjoy certain privileges upon invitation of the Club.

There are at present forty-five members, of whom ten have gained such membership as a result of the three plays produced so far this year. Seventeen have become Associate Members while thirty are on the Players' Reserve.

The organization has many social and minor activities but their principal interest is centered in the presentation of major productions in Gray Chapel. This year marked the inauguration of certain new policies relative to the dramatic activities of Wesleyan Players. Chief among these is a reduction in the number of plays offered and concentration on five major productions. This decrease in quantity makes possible better quality, permitting greater attention to detail in the preparation of each play.

The schedule of plays for the year 1928-1929 includes a wide variety of material. The first production of the season was "The Devil in the Cheese" by Tom Cushing. This romantic comedy, combining monks, cannibals, robbers, a gorilla, an Egyptian God, a tropical storm, and the inside of a girl's head in a strange picture, was presented October 26 and 27. On November 23 and 24, the Players celebrated the 100th anniversary of the birth of Henrik Ibsen, "the father of modern drama," by producing one of his most popular plays, "Pillars of Society." "Mr. Pim Passes By," a comedy in A. A. Milne's best style, was given February 8 and 9. J. M. Barrie's "Dear Brutus" is to be presented April 26 and 27. This whimsical play was founded upon Cassius' famous line in Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar,"—"the fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings." The last production will be "Twelfth Night" by William Shakespeare. It is planned to give one of the performances in modern dress, the other in traditional costume, thus affording an opportunity for evaluating the present vogue of modernized Shakespeare.

Following the usual custom of presenting a Shakespeare play at commencement time, the Club will offer "Twelfth Night."

The officers of this year's organization are: John Thomas, president; Helen Robison, vice president; Harold Mansfield, secretary; and Robert Wallace, treasurer.

Senior Lecture Course and Concert Series

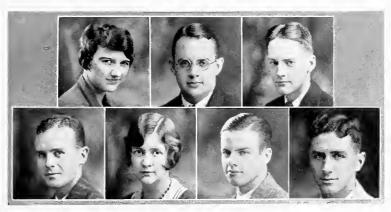

FOR MANY YEARS Ohio Wesleyan University has sponsored the Senior Lecture Course and Concert Series. Originally the Department of Speech intended that it be purely lecture. Gradually, however, as conditions and sentiment changed, the type of program was varied until now it usually includes a number of concerts, plays, and recitals.

Each year two committees, one student and one faculty, are appointed. These committees, working in conjunction, plan a well rounded and stimulating course, including both musical numbers and lectures. The aim of the committee this year was to bring to Gray Chapel only the highest type of entertainment in a balanced program.

The 1928-29 course opened with the Russian Symphonic Choir. They were dressed in native costume making the stage very colorful. The blending of voices seemed perfect. Most of their numbers were sung in their own language.

In December Tony Sarg brought his marionettes to Delaware presenting scenes from the life of Christopher Columbus. Every one was so engrossed in the performance of the marionettes that they forgot their actual size. When Tony Sarg stepped onto the platform it seemed that some giant had descended upon them. Other numbers on the course were Seidel, the great violinist, and the Flonzaley Quartet. Later in the spring Louise Homer, noted contralto, and Stephen Leacock, famous Canadian humorist, appeared on the program.

The interest and acclaim with which the course was received this year should be an indication that it fulfills a very urgent need in our campus life. It shows that the people of Delaware and members of the student body seek an opportunity to hear and see world famous artists.

Varsity Debate

JUDGING from the interest manifested and the number of decision debates won, the debate season of 1928-1929 was a very successful one for both the men and women's squads.

Teams from both squads participated in the annual debate tours. The women's trip included debates with Bowling Green State Normal, Transylvania College, and Kentucky Wesleyan, the University of Kentucky, and Berea College. The team making the trip was composed of Jo Spencer, Mary Kilgore, and Helen Mowry. The men's trip included debates with the University of Kansas, University of Tulsa, Oklahoma Baptist University, University of Oklahoma, North Texas State Teachers College, Baylor College, and Louisiana State University. Those making the trip were Lewis Syester, Donald Sherbondy, and Phillips Moulton.

Other than the debates on the trip, the women's schedule included a dual debate with Otterbein, a triangular debate with Oberlin and Wooster, and a single debate with the University of Pittsburgh. The men's schedule included debates with Wooster, Oberlin, Occidental College, Washington and Lee University and several others.

Freshman Debate

THE PURPOSE of Freshman debate is to train the Freshman for the varsity squads as well as to give an opportunity for the Freshman to participate in forensic activities.

Tryouts for the squads were held early in the fall under the direction of the speech department. The members of the men's squads were: Morrison, Bowlar, Marshal, Taylor, Meredith, Kertscher, Freeman, Brown, Clayton, Stafford, Fischer, Slutz, Sparks, Lyons, Smith, Coultrap, Elgen, Ensley. The members of the women's squad were: Ingle, Marshman, King, Free, Cartmell, Anderson, Schauer, Neer, Gates, Aull.

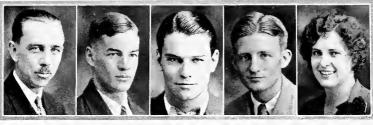

Owing to a very heavy varsity debate schedule not as many debates as in previous years were scheduled for the Freshman Squads. The mcn's schedule included debates with Otterbein, Denison, and Cincinnati. The women's schedule included a debate with Denison and one with Otterbein.

Miss Mildred Crawford coached the woman's squad, and Mr. Griffith coached the men's squad.

The Instrumental Ensemble of the Singers' Club

THE 1928-1929 musical season saw introduced on the Ohio Wesleyan campus and in off-campus programs a new group, the Instrumental Ensemble of the Singers' Club.

The first purpose of the ensemble is to make possible the performance of music written for the small instrumental group. Solo work with the Ensemble accompaniment makes an enjoyable contrast with the full Ensemble and with the choral work of the Singers' Club.

The second purpose of the Ensemble is to furnish adequate accompaniment for the Singers' Club. An ensemble of at least nine pieces accompanied the singers on all their out of town tours, including Pittsburgh, Dayton, Cleveland, and Washington, D. C.

Work independent of the Singers' Club has also been done by the Ensemble. The accompaniment rendered by the Instrumental Ensemble added much to the beauty and effectiveness of the Dance Drama presented by the Orchesis, campus dancing organization, March 1. Later in March a program was given in Marion, Ohio by the instrumental group. On March 21 the group broadcasted a program from a Columbus station.

University Chamber Orchestra

THE Ohio Wesleyan Chamber Orchestra, directed by Mr. Altyn H. Elliott of the Violin Department of the School of Music, has been in existence on this campus since 1920.

It is composed of students enrolled in the University or the School of Music. In order that its personnel shall include only the most talented, membership is determined by the try-out method, only the most expert being admitted.

During the past year the orchestra presented two individual concerts: a Schubert program was given in Sanborn Hall in November; and a varied program was offered in April. It appeared twice with the Singers' Club: in a concert in chapel February 11; and during the ceremonies accompanying the Inauguration of President Soper, February 14 and 15.

The purpose of the activity is two-fold: to give to all those who hear them the finest of the world's music, with the cultivation of an appreciation of music as an end; and, to give to the members of the orchestra experience, knowledge and mastery of technique, and the understanding of music which will enable them to continue in their work after leaving the University.

The officers are: John Fisher, President and Student Manager; Charlotte Cellars, Secretary; Hazel Miner, Treasurer; and Grace Chapman, Librarian.

Olio Wesleyan University Band

ONE of the most active and most valuable organizations upon our campus during the past year has been the Ohio Wesleyan University Band. It made its first appearance of the season at the Marietta football game. It then accompanied the team to Ann Arbor, where it greatly aided the players to carry off the honors of that eventful day. During the remainder of the season the band played at every game except those at Cincinnati and Syracuse.

Last year the band was not connected with the University and was an independent organization. This year, however, the band has been under the direction of the School of Music, and University credit was given to its members. The officers for the past year have been William Marks, President; William Harr, Vice President; Carl Fuller, Business Manager; and Sidney Stone, Drum Major.

One of the new activities of the band has been that of playing before an unseen audience. Once a month, its members have journeyed to Columbus where they have broadcast over WAIU and the Ohio State University Radio Station. During the year the band has also performed at various campus functions. Some of these have been Dad's Day, Homecoming, Campus Night, and many others. Late in the spring weekly Sunday afternoon concerts were presented on Monnett campus.

Much credit is due to professor George Howard for the development of the band. He has shown us the results of his talent as a leader and a musician, in the organization which he has developed. The Drum Major, Sidney Stone, has also shown up exceptionally well during the past year and has added much to the appearance of the band.

Singers' Club and Choral Club

THE SINGERS CLUB and Choral Club are student organizations established for the purpose of furthering good choral music, both sacred and secular.

The former group, which is an organization of both men and women, was created in 1925, with a membership of sixteen. A week end trip to Cincinnati, where the entire concert was broadcasted, was the first out-of-town excursion of the club. During the first year, the group began acting as the chapel choir and presented several special services. Other trips the first year included Sunday evening concerts and broadcasting at Columbus. During the school year of 1926-1927, the membership of the club increased to twenty-five, and by the end of the third year of its existence, forty-five students were enrolled.

During the past year, the membership of the club has increased to ninety-seven, and the organization has again been successful in increasing its activities over those of preceding years. The first out-of-town concert was given at Richwood during the month of November. In December the Club presented a concert at Columbus, as well as several others in the vicinity of Delaware. Immediately following the end of the first semster, forty of the group took a four-day tour to Pittsburgh, giving concerts on the way at Steubenville and Coshocton, Ohio, and Wilkinsburg and Indiana, Pa.

Forty members made the ten-day spring trip to Washington, D. C., in the club's chartered bus. Seven concerts were presented in the capital city and vicinity during the week's stay there, including two concerts in the First Congregational Church, President Coolidge's Washington Church.

The Choral Club is a division of the Singers' Club, and its membership is made up of the women of the latter group. Until this year it had functioned independently of the larger organization, but last fall it was incorporated with the Singers' Club.

Membership is not limited, the basis of affiliation being a system of tryouts greatly resembling that of the Singers' Club. These tryouts include tests of tone quality, ability to read music at sight, to carry a tune, and ability to pitch the voice, as well as expression and an ear for harmony.

From the Choral Club, twenty-five members are chosen annually as representatives of Ohio Wesleyan in the Interstate Choral Club Contest, which was held at the University of Cincinnati March 4, this year. Other schools participating included Ohio Northern, Ohio University, Miami, Bluffton, and Cincinnati. In winning the contest for the third year in succession in this contest, Ohio Wesleyan gained permanent possession of the cup awarded the winner annually.

Prof. H. D. LeBaron is leader of the larger group; Mack Henderson, manager, and Donald Kettring, president; the student director and president of the Choral Club is Dorothy MacDonald; and Martha Eastman, accompanist for both organizations.

Glee Club

THE OHIO WESLEYAN GLEE CLUB has been among our campus organizations for some fitty years, but only during the last score of years has it gained any prestige at home or abroad. Professor Guy E. McLean is that energetic and admirable personality who has steered this group of men along a course of success and achievement since 1914. Under his leadership this men's musical organization has won the state glee club contest four times in six years, gained permanent possession of the Columbus Dispatch trophy cup for three successive victories and made the name of Ohio Wesleyan known in Panama, Canada and five European countries. These men were pioneers in glee club European tours two years ago, but that determination and grit so effectively instilled in these fellows by their leader brought success and triumph when failure would have been the easier course.

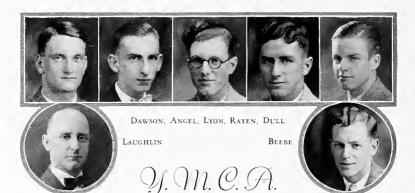

The tentative plan of the management is another tour through Europe this summer, the itinerary of which will include Spain, Morrocco, Italy, France, Norway, Sweden, Scotland and Germany. It will take a great deal to daunt the spirit and enthusiasm of this organization in completing plans for one of the most extended tours found in any glee club history.

The aesthetic power of music itself along with the genuine admiration for "Mac's" high ideals has developed a congenial organization of the highest possible moral. Edward L. Keen, the London representative of the Associated Press, in a letter to the President of our University said, "Each man was a true ambassador to his country."

The object of the Y. M. C. A. is to serve the men of the University in practical ways, to lead in the endeavor to solve the moral problems of college life, to surround men with such influence as shall lead them with loyal discipleship with Jesus Christ, to promote Christian fellowship and aggressive work, especially by and for students, and to train them for permanent Christian service, not only in distinctly religious callings, but also in secular pursuits.

THERE is a room where every Ohio Wesleyan girl feels at home. It is the Y. W. C. A. office in the balcony of Slocum Library. Miss Margt A. Fifield, Y. W. C. A. campus secretary is hostess there. Books on the shelves, yellow daffodils in a blue bowl on the desk, poetry on the bulletin board, gay pictures on the walls, comfortable chairs and an inviting davenport, a convenient telephone, fountain pen ink and darning cotton for emergencies, but most of all Miss Fifield's happy smile and helpful word. The Cosmopolitan Club

STUDENTS who come from sixteen different countries of the world are strengthened by the comradeship of others who are as many thousands of miles away from home as they are.

Cosmopolitan Club helps to ease many aching hearts and it is a great uniting force in the bond of international friendship.

Foreign students and missionary's sons and daughters are eligible to the club. There are meetings every three weeks, alternating between the club's social and business meetings and "Open House," when one or two countries are hosts, with national demonstrations, talks, and music.

The big feature of this year's program was an International Banquet held at St. Paul's Church December 15, to which the public was invited. The food came from different countries and the speakers were from different nations.

The ideals of the organization are enclosed in the Cosmopolitan Club Song:

Seekers of new lamps for old, Hail to Cosmopolitan! Friendships, otherwise untold, Praises Cosmopolitan! Thy radiant spirit will efface Nation, color, creed, and race, Understanding, love, and grace, Brought by Cosmopolitan!

The Oxford Club

THE OXFORD CLUB was organized in 1910 by a group of young men interested in creating a greater unity among students contemplating entrance into the ministry or other religious work. The purpose of the organization, as adopted by its founders, is "to help a man himself and to aid him in various ways to become a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

The policy of the club, during the past year, was to call meetings whenever a situation was created in which it would be advantageous for the group to meet. Several interesting meetings were held with President Soper, Mr. Karl Meister, Secretary of Church Relations, and Prof. George W. Hollister of the Missions Department as principal speakers. The club was also privileged to hear a number of nationally and internationally known men from all parts of the world. At a luncheon given by the university the club was addressed by Dr. Richard Roberts of Toronto, the Merrick lecturer. Professor Leslie of Boston Theological Seminary also spoke before the club. The four christian education clubs on the campus met together for luncheon on Friday, February 15. Two of the outstanding men in their field, Dr. Luther A. Weigle, Dean of Yale Divinity School, and Dr. Frederick C. Eiselin, President of the Garrett Bibical Institute, gave addresses at that time.

Membership in the club is open to anyone contemplating work along religious lines. Officers of the group, during the past year, were: Thurman Alexander, president; Roswell Lyons, vice president; Leon Stapley, secretary; and Willard Willetts, treasurer.

Country Life Club

THE COUNTRY LIFE CLUB was organized about four years ago under the leadership of Professor Tetreau of the Department of Sociology, and is composed of students interested in the study of rural life and conditions. The local group is a member of the American Country Life Association.

The purpose of the club is to bring about a better understanding between city and country through a study of rural conditions, and to develop leadership among the members of the organization to better prepare them to carry on extension work in rural communities. The knowledge of rural conditions necessary to this leadership is obtained by means of speakers, well qualified to speak on problems faced by the rural population. The extension work for which the club aids to prepare its members consists in the production of plays, the giving of entertainments, and the presentation of other recreational programs in the granges, churches and other organizations of the rural communities.

The officers of the club, elected for the year 1929 are: President, Rudolph Bednar; Vice President, Edna Penwarden; Secretary, Helen Ewing; and Treasurer, Ellsworth Ewing. Professor Banzet, Professor of Rural Sociology, is the faculty advisor for the organization.

Le Bijou

RECORDS of university life at Ohio Weselvan were published sporadically beginning with the junior publication of 1870 known as the Chain. The name of the various reviews changed from time to time and the book of 1870 was followed by the Souvenir in 1871. To the class of 1877 belongs the credit for the initial use of the title Bijou, (jewel). This volume was followed by another of that name in 1880 and from that time books appeared at yearly intervals bearing the names, Bijou, Junior Bijou, and The Eijou until in 1903 the publication assumed the all-French title of Le Bijou which it has held ever since.

This, the 1929 edition of Le Bijou, has attempted as has its predecessors, to reproduce within its pages the life in and surrounding Ohio Wesleyan University. Since by its very nature a yearbook is restricted to a mere reflection of campus life and since campus life shows only a gradual evolution no radical changes can be visualized within the consecutive volumes save only through a more complete representation of life and a more attractive physical treatment through the graphic arts.

The staff has not made this book in as much as its only task has been to collect and preserve the student history of the year 1928-1929. This staff, however, has tried to publish a more interesting and thorough account in a more attractive manner. If in the eyes of the students this has been achieved—if, in the years to come this book will bring its owner pleasant memories of undergraduate days, the staff will have fulfilled its purpose.

During the early years of the university's history, student journalistic effort was more or less sporadic and short-lived. In 1867, however, there appeared on the campus The American Student, a privately-issued college newspaper, published weekly by several students. This journal continued to appear with more or less regularity throughout the college year.

This early weekly was succeeded in 1868 by The Western Collegian, whose editorial board was elected from the senior class by the members of that class. Thus it became the organ of the whole student body. Its contents to be composed of "general contributions and especially such local items as will be of interest to the class of readers for whom it is intended."

Five years later The Western Collegian became representative of the women also by the election to the editorial board of senior women of the Female College, which later united with the university. In 1874, the title was changed to The College Transcript, "a more euphonious, appropriate and distinctive title."

After several years of peaceful progress, trouble arose in the form of a rival journal, The Practical Collegian. But its life was short.

GRADUALLY the method of election to staff positions came under the fire of criticism and in 1902, elections to the staff were put on a competitive basis and officials were chosen by a Transcript Board of the Senior staff officers and of faculty members, rather than by direct class vote. That method is still in vogue today.

The name of the newspaper was changed once again in 1903 when it assumed its present title, The Ohio Wesleyan Transcript. Originally a newspaper in form, the journal has appeared at various times in magazine form, but since 1913 it has been published as a newspaper. The Transcript appeared weekly until 1927 when it became a semi-weekly.

With the change to a semi-weekly, the number of positions on the staff of The Transcript was enlarged until, at present more than 75 students hold positions on its editorial, sports, society and business staffs. Try-outs for staff positions are held each fall and each spring.

The Transcript is one of the leading members of the Ohio College Newspaper association. The silver loving-cup, given as a prize in that association's annual contest for "the best College newspaper in Ohio," was awarded to The Transcript in 1928.

As a mirror of college life, as a proper stimulus to student thought, as a means of communication between alumni and under-graduate life, The Transcript aspires to be a worthy representative of the university.

ALLAM, Founder

Sulphurus

WITH the aim of developing "A Journal of Literary Effort and Liberal Opinion" for the students of Ohio Wesleyan University, Sulphurus, newest of campus publications, was founded last fall.

Constructive items on the program of the new journal were the stimulation of liberal thought, the remedying of local political evils, and the provision of an outlet for student literary work.

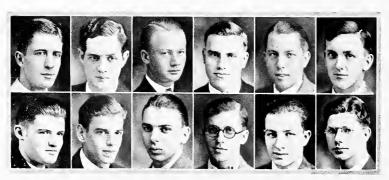

In Sulphurus the Ohio Wesleyan campus saw for the first time a definite journalistic effort to bring campus politics into the open out of their closed-door obscurity. Writers familiar with the local situation have informed the students, in a series of carefully verified articles, of what actually goes on behind the political scenes.

Hearty backing was given by Sulphurus to liberal speakers appearing on our campus, such as Norman Thomas, and the publication encouraged the formation of a local liberal club.

Although Sulphurus has no formally organized staff the editorial policies of the paper are guided by a group of upperclassmen who meet informally to discuss the affairs of the publication.

The unofficial advisory board has consisted of Allam, Beal, Fickeison, Marting, Morgan, Schreiber, Tuttle, Wickham. Business affairs have been under the direction of Kertscher, Ehrich, Elgin, Kohler, and Plymale.

MOORE, President

The Alumni Association

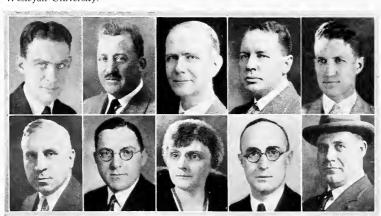

The Alumni Association is the result of the continuing interest and confidence of Ohio Wesleyan students in their college friends and their alma mater. It represents an ever growing realization on the part of the alumni and college that the relationships begun in undergraduate days are enduring and that they may always operate to the mutual advantage of both.

The alumni organization includes a board of directors which determines its policies and promotes the purposes of the association. The organization further embodies class groups with activities centering in the class reunions and local organizations which provide opportunity for carrying out the interests of smaller sectional groups. A further grouping involves Monnett and Odevene Clubs through which the alumnae and alumni respectively follow up their more particular interests.

The activities through which alumni interest is manifested are services both to the alumni and college. Local association meetings, class reunions, the alumni magazine and home-comings are typical of the first. Election of alumni trustees and counsel on its problems constitute a real service to the university. The sending of desirable students to the university is an equally important function which they perform. Financial support of the various university enterprises has always been one of the most apparent forms of showing their belief in their alma mater.

These and related activities have been the means of developing alumni interest to a place where it is a power in university affairs. Reciprocally, the university has realized its responsibility to continue its contribution to the intellectual interests and growth of the alumni. The result has been that along with faculty and student body the alumni have become a third element in the building of a more complete Ohio Wesleyan University.

Alumni Fund Council

THE ALUMNI FUND COUNCIL is an organization of more than a hundred representative alumni of Ohio Wesleyan. They were chosen at the request of an alumni association committee, by the president of the university, the president of the board of trustees, and the president of the alumni association association. The council officers are ex-officio members of the alumni assiciation directorate.

It is the purpose of the Alumni Fund Council to serve the university by offering to its alumni and friends an opportunity to make annual gifts of any amount to the trustees of the school. Gifts may be designated for specific objects, but the chief purpose is to furnish each year a generous sum that may be used by the trustees wherever the need is greatest.

The fund was begun in 1926 and during the school year of 1926-27 it totalled $5,291.25. The total in 1927-28 was about twenty thousand dollars.

Dr. Soper writes in relation to the Alumni Fund: "The Alumni Fund Council is doing a work which should be appreciated by every graduate of the University. One of the most noticeable differences between the O. W. U. of the days when I began teaching here eighteen years ago and the O. W. U. of today is just this point. The Alumni have been discovered; they are a vital part of the University; they must be in every plan to make Ohio Wesleyan what she hopes to be."

The Alumni Magazine

THE OHIO WESLEYAN MAGAZINE is a medium by which contacts between alumni and between the alumni and college are maintained. It provides information regarding the activities and progress of both, thereby establishing an understanding of their common interests and problems.

The magazine was first published in 1915 as a quarterly and from that time has grown until, from the standpoint of frequency of publication, make-up, content and general usefulness, it is a worthy representation of the educational standards of the college and alumni.

The news carried in the magazine deals with the activities of the alumni, with the developments of the college and with general educational progress. Members of the faculty, especially administrative officers, are its chief contributors.

The Ohio Wesleyan Magazine aims to combine the happy memories of former college days with a picture of the present university as its contribution toward the building of a greater Ohio Wesleyan.

English Writers' Club

THE ENGLISH WRITERS' CLUB is not a young organization. It is a venerable one, established in those days before departmental clubs became so popular. English Writers is not simply a social opportunity for majors of the department, but is an independent organization open to students of every rank; all types, and all interests. The one requisite is the ability to write good English. The forms vary from the sonnet to the essay. Criticisms and expository papers are often produced by members of the club. The one binding interest is good writing. The members are selected by a system of tryouts and the membership is usually small, thus holding the standards high.

This club is absolutely under student control, but is very ably advised and assisted by the English professors and instructors.

This year several new departures have been made in the program. In addition to original papers by students, several faculty members have spoken on writing in various fields. (This semester, acting upon the suggestion of Dr. Amy, the club is undertaking a new project—and a daring one—the writing of a college novel treating of the Mid-western denominational college.

French Club

To AFFORD a laboratory for French conversation, to add to the French student's knowledge of France and her people, and to build up social and intellectual bonds among all those interested in the French language is the three-fold purpose of the French club.

Admitting only French majors at the time and offering an exclusively literary program, the French club was first organized in 1924. Reorganization the following year, 1925, resulted in the present policy of Le Cercle Francais. Any students of French may now apply for membership. Members are chosen at two try-out sessions during the year. The formal try-out is in the nature of an original oral theme in French, presented before members of the club or the faculty of the French department.

The annual program of Le Cercle Francais is social as well as educational in nature. Holiday parties are given by the social committee at various times during the year and informal social gatherings follow all meetings. The French language is spoken exclusively both in formal meetings and at social affairs. Musical programs characterize some of the meetings. Professor Fatio at the piano is growing to be an exquisite bit of tradition in the club. On frequent occasions plays and talks in French are given. At the meeting on February 27 the high school French students from the training school classes at Kilbourne presented a play in French for the group.

One of the most noticeable characteristics of the personnel of the group is the intimacy and lack of formality between students and faculty members. Two one act plays directed by Professor Fatio and Professor Huser, were presented for the public by members of the club in Sanborn hall on March 20.

Initiation in the fall was followed by the traditional banquet, at which toasts, speeches and songs were given in French. In the spring after the second initiation the group went on a hike which ended in a roast around a glowing camp fire.

The History Club

THE HISTORY CLUB has as its objective the provision of a field of expression for those students who are particularly interested in the nature and development of history. It was founded in 1926 by professors and students who felt the need of some such organization in order to provide additional stimulus to the study of history.

With these purposes as a background the Club has grown in size and activities until now it is one of the really worth while organizations on the Ohio Wesleyan campus. The fact that membership is based entirely on merit and interest has led to the formation of an exclusive group which is seeking to know the truths of history. With such a commendable goal, and aided by the high character of the personnel of the Club, success has, from the first, been inevitable.

Meetings are held once a month and vary considerably in the character of their programs. At some of the meetings, problems dealing with different phases of the study of history are brought and emphasized by open-forum discussion. At others, reviews of important books which throw added light on the facts of history are given by both faculty and student members. Occasionally, prominent historians of the day are secured as speakers. Last year Reverend C. S. Gay addressed the Club on his research work on John Brown.

Along with the primary aim of increasing the knowledge of the subject, the History Club serves the purpose of bringing about a closer relationship between students and professors through its meetings, which are made possible only by cooperation. It also promotes a general interest in history through the wide variety of subjects which are brought before the members.

Home Economics Club

THEY sure know their onions! And their frills and furbelows; this might be said of the fair co-eds who belong to the Home Economics Club. This organization consists of about forty members, under the leadership of Miss Bertha E. Titsworth, head of the Home Economics Department.

The last word in culinary and dress-making arts is discussed in the monthly meetings of the Home Economics Club, by those who are most interested in such lines of feminine wiles. Also when any thing in their speciality is needed by the university, in the way of serving special lunches or saving the starving Armenians in various ways, the Home Economists come to the front bravely and do their duty.

Members are selected from any girls taking courses in the Home Economics Department. Three consecutive meetings must be attended before candidates become associate members. By a point system they are elected to regular membership.

Items of interest and problems of the national organization are considered in the business and social meetings. The local club is working especially this year in conjunction with the national organization known as the Home Economics Club.

One member will be sent to the national convention at Boston, Massachusetts, this summer. Doris Coffey is President of the local group. Kathryn Parker, Vice President; Marjorie Hageman, Secretary; and Dorothy Howells, Treasurer.

Philosophy Club

THE PHILOSOPHY CLUB is twenty-five years old this year, and is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary by taking steps toward preserving the reports of past years. When Dr. T. G. Duvall, one of the most beloved of the "grand old men" of Wesleyan's faculty, started this group in 1904 for those interested in philosophy in all of its absorbing phases, little did he dream that it would continue to grow and strengthen until it includes other talents and interests and has become almost another of Wesleyan's traditions.

Christmas meeting at Dr. Duvall's home, and guest night when the Ohio State group has a joint meeting with them, are the two features a year which everyone recognizes as parts of the club itself.

Each year one idea is developd and discussed in the monthly meetings. This year there have been papers on the philosophy of education, with group discussions following. The subject is always traced from the beginning and on down through the ages, to modern theories.

Members for the Philosophy Club are chosen by an election committee, who consider the interest in this subject and scholastic standing; after this, the proposed members are voted on by the group. There are now about twenty-five active members, and three faculty members: Dr. Duvall, Dr. George Beiswanger, and Dr. Rollin Walker. Mary Kilgore is President; Charles Styron, Vice President; Hillis Kaiser, Secretary; and Paul Bird, Treasurer.

Inter-Fraternity Council

THE INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL was started in 1926 to replace the old Pan Hellenic system of representatives from both fraternities and sororities which was proving unsatisfactory. Shortly after Dean Sanders' arrival here as Dean of Men, he called a meeting of all fraternity presidents for the purpose of creating a better feeling among the fraternities and between the fraternities and himself. It was out of this meeting that a suggestion came to continue to hold such meetings and create a working organization. This was the start of the present Inter-Fraternity Council differing from the old system in that the meetings are more frequent, that sororities are not included, that the representative is the president of the group, and that meetings are held with the Dean of Men.

The discussions are very formal, relating largely to fraternity problems, and afford a much closer contact between the fraternities and the administrative authorities as they are a direct and reliable source of student opinion.

One of the outgrowths of the organization has been the holding here the past two years of an Inter-Fraternity Conference to which National leaders in fraternity work have been brought.

The council meets bi-weekly each fraternity taking its turn as host. Wendell Andrews was elected president for the first semester of this year and Karl Schuele for the second. Dean Sanders serves as chairman.

Fraternity Advisory Council

THE FRATERNITY ADVISORS are faculty members who have been chosen by the fraternities. These men are prepared to confer with the fraternity leaders on problems relative to the chapter's welfare. The relationship is only a friendly one and is successful in so far as mutual confidence is established between the advisor and his fraternity. The advisors meet occasionally with the Dean of Men to discuss fraternity life.

Housemothers

THE ANNALS of college fraternities in the past few years have been marked by the growing acceptance of the housemother idea. Although the present college generation is not to be credited with the inception of the plan, it is only in recent years that there has been a marked extension.

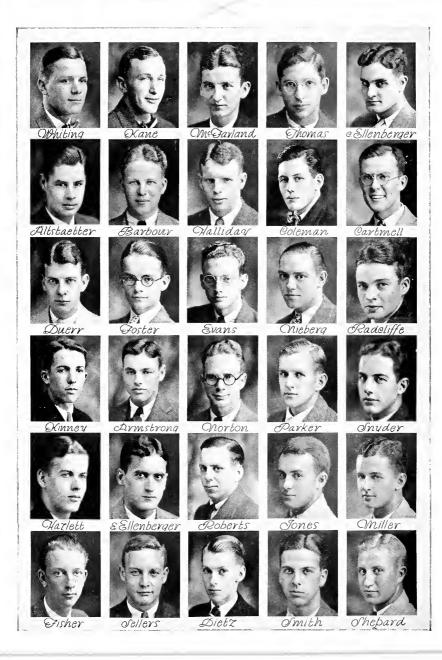

At the present time the majority of the national fraternities on the Ohio Wesleyan campus have housemothers. The pioneer in the field is Miss Myrtie Armstrong, who has been with Phi Delta Theta for more than ten years.

In the scheme of fraternity life the housemother occupies a definite place. Her functions vary from those of dietitian and housekeeper to those of hostess and counsellor. In every case she lends a woman's charm and influence to the atmosphere of the fraternity house.

WOMEN'S FRATERNITIES

CHADWICK, President

BROOKS, Secretary

MILLER, Treasurer

The Pan - Hellenic Council

In the fall of 1923 the first national fraternities for women were installed on the Ohio Wesleyan University campus. One year after the first groups were installed, the Pan-Hellenic Council was organized. The purpose of the council has always been to work for the good of the University and all its women students, and by cooperation to benefit the fraternities on the campus and to unify the interests of the fraternity and non-fraternity women.

It is interesting to notice the tendencies of the Pan Hellenic movement in its harmonizing with world tendencies. Until 1901 each fraternity developed along its own lines, owing very little to the influence of other fraternities. But as soon as a group of fraternities formed the National Pan Hellenic Congress, each fraternity became a part of a greater whole, and from this whole have come the influences that give to fraternities their main characteristics. They have substituted peace for war in their relationships. This peace is securely based on acquaintanceship and friendship formed in the Pan Hellenic meetings.

The council is composed of a senior delegate from each women's fraternity on the campus. The offices of the Council are held in rotation by the fraternities in the order of their installation as nationals on this campus.

Perhaps the best piece of constructive work done on the campus this year by the Pan-Hellenic Council was the joint Interfraternity Conclave held for the first time with the men's fraternities on the campus. On December 7, 8, and 9, discussion meetings, lectures, and social functions were held. National representatives from all the national groups on the campus attended and contributed to the program.

The outstanding feature of the local Pan-Hellenic Council is the feeling of friendliness and good fellowship which it inspires among the various groups.

HONORARY FRATERNITIES

Omicron Delta Kappa

"THE OMICRON DELTA KAPPA Fraternity had by its faithful rendition of service and high purpose removed all skepticism in my mind as to another honorary," said President Soper during the Omicron Delta Kappa Tap Day services in commenting on the inception of this fraternity at Duke University.

Tau Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa was established at Ohio Wesleyan in the spring of 1927. It was formed from a group of the local senior honorary, Alpha Kappa Alpha, which a few years before was formed by the consolidation of the local societies, the Toastmasters and Jesters.

Omicron Delta Kappa was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914. At first there was no intention of expansion, but the idea spread until now there are twenty-four chapters, mainly throughout the east and south.

Election to membership into Omicron Delta Kappa is based upon leadership in extra-curricular activities and scholarship. Twice a year, in January and May, the Tap Day services are held, when candidates for election are "tapped" in chapel. Election is determined by a point system, in which is listed extra-curricular activities according to their importance in rendering service on the campus. A total of fifty points is required, of which not more than thirty-two nor less than twenty-two must be in one line of activity. A scholarship average of 1.60 is required.

Omicron Delta Kappa has charge of the special days of the university and aids the Faculty Special Days Committee in making Homecoming, Dad's Day, and High School Day successful. For Homecoming Omicron Delta Kappa sponsored the annual Homecoming show. Almost five hundred Dads were entertained at a banquet given in their honor on the occasion of Dad's Day, a special creation of O D K.

In the spring, the O D K Carnival, consisting of campus talent and wit, met with large success.

On the occasion of High School Day, O D K entertains high school seniors, prospective Wesleyanites, from all over the state.

The fraternity sponsors various other activities such as the Soph-Frosh Contests and publication of the football programs.

One-third the membership of \bar{O} D K is taken from the faculty. Faculty membership includes Dean William E. Smyser, Dean William L. Sanders, Professor Allen C. Conger, and Professor Wilfred T. Helms. President Soper is a charter member of the Rho Circle at Duke University.

Carl Ellenberger has acted as President for the past year, Chadbourne Dunham, Vice President, and Edgar Cartmell, Secretary. Free Vail was elected Secretary for the second semester.

Membership by May elections also includes George Beebe, Paul Dull, John Halliday, Ralph Holtz, Hillis Kaiser, Fred Merwin, James Rayen, Norman Scribner, and Lewis Syester. Those elected in January include Howard Brown, Ellis Kerr, William Lewis and Free Vail.

Mortar Board

MORTAR BOARD, the finest and oldest women's honorary organization in the country, was installed on the Ohio Wesleyan campus May 18. The local Women's Boosters became a chapter in the national organization by this process. For over a decade the representative women of the senior class were organized as Boosters, a local organization of the same type as Mortar Board. The former Mortar Board National Director of Expansion, Miss Lillian Stupp, was entertained by the Boosters early in February and at that time everything but the formalities was completed.

The whole idea of Mortar Board is to promote richer campus life. It has chapters on all campuses of larger universities and schools of excellent standing. In many schools Mortar Board is deemed the highest honor awarded.

Three-fold qualifications, based on a regular point system, are required for election. Scholarship is perhaps the most highly stressed of the three. A higher point average is demanded for election to Mortar Board than to any other women's organization on the campus. The second qualification that candidates must offer is service, service to the campus, campus policies and projects. Leadership in campus activities is the third requirement. To belong to Mortar Board a girl must be a leader in not only one activity but many. Mortar Board election is strictly on a basis of worth, outside the sphere of politics or a machine. It attempts to choose only the best, those who really do things for the school.

The national organization is very conservative, yet expanding toward the west and the south in particular. A regular point system is enforced and chapters are limited to fifteen members. Chapters are permitted to incorporate local customs and many of their more solemn and beautiful ceremonies. On Monnett Day the local chapter held a pledging service for the junior women eligible to membership.

Mortar Board, a sister organization to Omicron Delta Kappa, the senior men's national honorary fraternity, aims to engage in personnel and vocational work and to make and cultivate tradition and feeling.

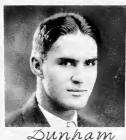

Phi Beta Kappa

PHI BETA KAPPA, the first Greek-letter society, was organized at the college of William and Mary in Virginia, December 5, 1776. Expansion was very slow for many years. In 1881 the several chapters adopted a constitution and formed a national organization under the title of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. The society is now represented in one hundred and fourteen of the leading educational institutions of America, and has a membership of approximately 60,000.

As early as 1831 the society had relinquished the principles of secrecy, thus differentiating its activities from those of the secret college fraternities rapidly forming at that time. The differentiation became more marked with the progress of the years. While the others became primarily social in their activities, Phi Beta Kappa centered its interest in the recognition and encouragement of scholarship.

The Eta Chapter of Ohio was instituted at Ohio Wesleyan University, on November 9, 1907, and the first under-graduate members were elected. The roll of the Chapter now includes 808 living members. The qualifications for membership are satisfactory moral character and high scholarship. The present minimum scholarship standard is a point average of 2.6 out of a possible 3.

Delta Sigma Rho

Delta Sigma Rho was the first honor society to be organized for students excelling in intercollegiate public speaking. In 1906 Professor E. E. McDermott of the University of Minnesota invited representatives of the principal mid-western universities to attend a meeting of those interested in debate and oratory at the Victoria Hotel, Chicago. It was here on April 13, that the honorary fraternity of Delta Sigma Rho was formally organized. Almost immediately the honorary was welcomed by colleges and universities throughout the country as a valuable asset to the already long list of honorary groups. During the year 1906 a letter was sent to the heads of the speech department of most of the leading universities calling attention to the new society. The founders wished to interest the schools with the highest scholastic standing first and later to give charters to others. The school receiving the only charter granted in 1906 was none other than Ohio Wesleyan University, showing the rating of Wesleyan in national educational circles. Within four years Delta Sigma Rho had grown to be a real national honorary.

The membership in the group here at Wesleyan is open to anyone having participated in three intercollegiate varsity debates over a period of two years. This virtually makes Delta Sigma Rho a Senior honorary and makes election to it something to be desired by every underclassman. According to many leaders in the field of education, Delta Sigma Rho comes second only to Phi Beta Kappa.

Kappa Delta Pi

This organization is an honorary educational fraternity for men and women which aims to encourage in its members a greater interest in educational and social work by fostering high scholarship standards among students preparing for teaching; and by the recognition of outstanding service in the field of education. It emphasizes continued interest in and study of educational problems and the support of professional teaching ideals.

The society was founded at the University of Illinois by Dr. W. C. Bagley in 1909. It now has chapters in many countries and includes in its membership a large percentage of the leaders in education.

Alpha Alpha chapter has been on the Ohio Wesleyan campus since 1923. Other Ohio schools in the chapter list of more than fifty-five United States colleges are Miami University, Ohio University, University of Cincinnati, University of Akron and Heidelberg College.

Those eligible to membership are students and faculty members of schools having a chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, and other persons who have rendered distinguished service in the educational profession.

Edna Copc has been president and Helen Niederheiser secretary of the organization for the past year; C. O. Mathews of the Department of Education is faculty advisor of the fraternity.

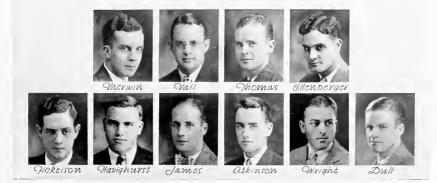

Pi Delta Epsilon

ON DECEMBER 6, 1909, ten men desiring to establish a national honorary journalism fraternity gathered at the University of Syracuse. This group drew up the charter of Pi Delta Epsilon,. Two years later there appeared on the campus of Ohio Wesleyan University the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, the fourth to be granted a charter. Since then the fraternity has installed chapters in forty-three other schools all over the country, making in all forty-seven active chapters.

Semi-annual elections are held in the fall and the spring. Requirements for election to the local chapter state that the candidate shall have attained prominence as a college journalist, and shall be a member of the junior class. All members elected so far have been on the staff of the Transcript or of Le Bijou. The high standard of requirements for election keeps the group small, six or eight being the usual number elected yearly. This exclusiveness makes election to Pi Delta Epsilon the highest honor that can be paid to members of the staffs of Ohio Wesleyan publications.

Last year Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio State, and Cincinnati acted as joint hosts to the national convention held in Columbus. It was one of the most successful conventions ever held by the group.

Mu Phi Epsilon

MU PHI EPSILON, a women's national honorary music fraternity, was founded at the Metropolitan College of Music in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 13, 1903. It was not founded as an honorary organization, but became one at the Twelfth National Convention, held at Detroit, Michigan, in April, 1915. Membership then was open to women who could meet certain requirements. These requirements were raised still higher at the convention of 1924.

The chapter at Ohio Wesleyan was installed in 1924. At present there are fifty-six chapters and over six thousand members. The official magazine of the fraternity is "The Triangle," a quarterly publication. Mu Phi Epsilon maintains locally and nationally a fund of approximately fifteen thousand dollars for the use of deserving students and needy members. Also cash prizes are given to members who submit the best original compositions in biennial contests.

In order to become a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, a student must pass certain tests: she must be a student of conspicuous ability, she must be able to make a creditable appearance, she must be able to play a simple piano accompaniment. She must also be able to pass certain theoretical requirements such as recognizing simple and compound rhythms, singing the major scale from any given tone, or writing from dictation a simple melody from eight to sixteen measures.

During the year, Mu Phi Epsilon gives a concert with Phi Mu Alpha, the men's national music fraternity, and also a concert of its own in Gray Chapel.

Pi Mu Epsilon

Pi Mu Epsilon was founded at Syracuse University in 1914 by Dr. E. D. Roe, who is still the national president. The local chapter, the 14th to be installed, was established here in 1927. It aims to combine with the ideals of Phi Beta Kappa a working organization within the colleges and universities for the study and promotion of mathematical interests. At present there are twelve members, including three from the faculty, Rufus Crane, Sidney A. Rowland, and R. L. Newlin.

In order to meet the qualifications for membership one must upon the completion of one year's work in calculus have a general point average of 1.85 and an average of 2.2 in mathematics, as well as a genuine interest in the field. However, a student who has made "A" during his first semester's work of calculus may be elected during his second semester's work if he has attained a scholastic point average of 1.85 and a point average in Mathematics of 2.5.

Until Pi Mu Epsilon was installed here the local club was known as the Gordon N. Armstrong Mathematics Club. The open meetings of the former correspond to the old mathematics organization. Program meetings are held once a month. This year the topics have been: "Mathematics in the Field Artillery" by Prof. Rowland; "Magic Squares" by Robert Klein; "Mathematical Fallacies" by Cecil Haller; "Inverted Figures" by Prof. Crane.

Phi Sigma Mu

PHI SIGMA MU is unique in the field of honorary musical fraternities because its membership is limited exclusively to students of the music department who intend to teach music in the public schools. The fraternity was founded at Ohio Wesleyan in 1926, and since that time chapters have been installed in four other colleges.

The aims of the organization are to promote fellowship and better understanding among teachers of music in the public schools, to provide better musical training for school children, and to maintain a high standard of scholarship among its members. In accordance with this principle a point average of two is required for election.

Business meetings of the organization are held every two weeks, alternate meetings being followed by a musical program provided by the members, or occasionally by outside talent.

Miss Emma G. Elliott, Instructor in Public School Music, is a charter member and has been appointed the faculty advisor of the group. To her is due much of the credit for the success of Phi Sigma Mu.

Phi Mu Alpha

PHI MU ALPHA Sinfonia Fraternity, a men's honorary musical fraternity, was founded at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass., October 6, 1898, for the purpose of "developing the best and truest fraternal spirit; the mutual welfare and brotherhood of music students; the advancement of music in America; and a loyalty to the Alma Mater." Omega chapter was founded at Ohio Wesleyan University, May 24, 1922.

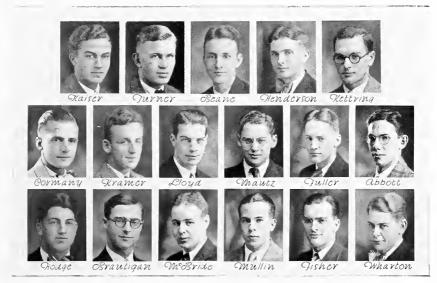

On Wesleyan's campus, Phi Mu Alpha serves to bring together into fellowship those who are interested in the best musically. Its members are chosen from those interested in the various musical activities on the campus who have been recommended for election by those in charge of such activities.

The members may be enrolled either in the liberal arts school or in the music school.

As a national organization, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity sponsors various contests as well as musical performances. The national organization also supports a National Music Camp at Interlochen, Michigan, which is a National High School

Orchestra and Band Camp.

The local organization sponsors inter-fraternity song contests and various musical programs. Organized discussion of musical problems and performances which aid its members in a better appreciation of the best in music make up the larger part of its regular meetings.

Delta Phi Delta

FROM a small local society, The Palette Club, established at the University of Kansas in 1909 has grown Delta Phi Delta, a national honorary art fraternity, with chapters at leading universities and colleges throughout the United States. Delta Phi Delta made its initial appearance on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in May, 1921, in response to a growing desire for an honorary art organization.

The fraternity was founded with certain primary aims which the various chapters are continuously striving to fulfill. The chief purpose is to promote interest in art among college students so that they may more fully appreciate and evaluate works of art. Together with other honorary fraternities, Delta Phi Delta seeks to stimulate high scholarship by making scholarship a requirement for membership in the society. In addition the recognition of potential professional ability is attempted so that the work of talented pupils may be encouraged and turned in directions where it will be afforded the most chance for development.

At Ohio Wesleyan, Delta Phi Delta has bent every effort toward the realization of the aims of the fraternity, and has grown in accordance with the development of the School of Fine Arts.

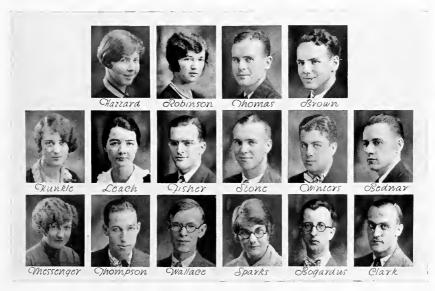

Theta Alpha Phi

THETA ALPHA PHI is a national honorary fraternity for dramatics in which election to the organization is based on activity in dramatics and on scolarship. The group is not limited in size, but the high standards required for membership tend to keep the chapter small. Election is the highest honor that can be awarded the college actor.

The Ohio Alpha chapter was the first to be installed in Ohio, and the second in the fraternity. There are now sixty-six active chapters scattered throughout the country. Professor Charles Newcomb, former head of the Oratory Department here, was one of the founders and the first Grand President. Professor Hunter was at one time national Vice President.

This chapter has grown from a membership of five, meeting only a few times a year, to the present membership of twenty-three, who meet for luncheon every four weeks. During these meetings literature of the theatre is discussed, and theatrical problems are taken up for consideration. The fraternity attempts to encourage and interest in the progress of stage development, and reviews of the modern stage are often studied.

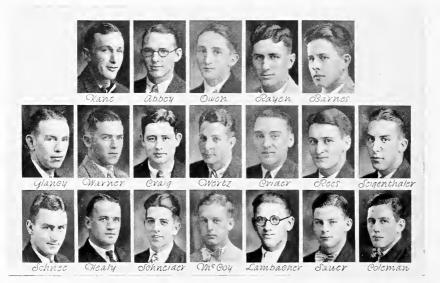

Gamma Phi

GAMMA PHI, the honorary gymnastic fraternity, was founded at Ohio State University in 1903. In 1907, the Beta chapter was installed at Ohio Wesleyan. The purpose of the organization is to encourage and honor outstanding work in gymnastics. This was meant to include fencing, wrestling, and swimming only; however, last year an addition was made so that persons majoring in physical education, who meet a sufficiently high standard, are now eligible to election.

Although its purpose is primarily to promote gymnastics, the group has taken on other functions which have made its scope much broader. The members assist the physical education department by giving instruction in apparatus work. Also, they aid in the management of both intramural and varsity activities. One of the fraternity's most important services is the overseeing of the annual high school gym meet. It assumes responsibility for staging the meet and provides for the entertainment of the visiting contestants.

Wallace Schneider is president of the Beta chapter, Ross Owen is vice president, and William Barnes is secretary-treasurer. The faculty advisor is Walter C. Freeman, coach of the gym team.

Orchesis

To Interpret the various moods and meanings of life in terms of bodily rhythm is the purpose of Orchesis. In May, 1927, a group of Ohio Wesleyan girls interested in creative dancing banded together to form this group. Although it is a part of a movement in many colleges where girls find the aesthetic in the interpretation of beautiful music and poetry, it is not a national fraternity.

Admission is based upon tests of technical skill, creative work, and interest in the dance as a fine art. Try-outs consist of three tests: two fundamental, and one dramatic or lyric interpretive dance.

In cooperation with the School of Music, Orchesis has presented a dance-drama in Gray Chapel each year since its founding. The departments of speech, home economics, and fine arts have contributed to its success.

On March 1 a dance-drama, written by Barbara Sheaff, with the bibical story of the Creation as its theme, was presented. Members also gave a series of lyrical, dramatic and comedy dances, including a Ballon Frieze, Valse Triste, The River, Phantom Sail, etc. Music students furnished the accompaniment and gave a recital of vocal and instrumental solos.

Credit must be given to Miss Barbara Page, general instructor of the organization, Bernice Hylton, President, and Barbara Sheaff, instructor of members of Junior Orchesis
